TO TAKE BALLOT FROM THE NEGRO

West Virginia Democrats Declare for Disfranchisement

HARD FIGHT OVER PLANK

And It Was Not Unanimously Approved—There Was Also Opposition to the Jim Crow Car Plank to the Platform.

Charleston, W. Va., July 30.—After an all-night session of the democrats of West Virginia, in convention here nominated Louis Bennett, of Lewis county, for governor at 4 o'clock this morning, after the convention had struggled for hours over the only two planks in the platform, and were not unanimously approved. These two planks were the negro disfranchisement and "jim crow" planks, which, after the resolutions committee had reported them favorably, were made a part of the platform, amid scenes of wildest excitement this afternoon. The text of the negro disfranchisement plank is as follows:

"Believing that the extension of the elective franchise to a race inferior in intelligence, and without preparation for the wise and prudent exercise of a privilege so vital to the maintenance of good government was a mistake, if not a crime, committed by the republican party during the reign of passion and prejudice following the civil war for political ends and purposes, we declare that the democratic party is in favor of so amending the constitution as to preserve the purity of the ballot and the electorate of the state from the evil results from conferring such power and privilege upon those who are unfitted to appreciate its importance as it affects the stability and preservation of good government.

"We favor the enactment of a law requiring common carriers engaged in passenger traffic to furnish separate coaches or compartments for white and colored passengers."

The following is the state ticket as nominated by the convention.

Governor—Louis Bennett, Lewis county.

Secretary of State—Adam B. Littlepage, Kanawha county.

State Auditor—Oscar Jenkins, Wood county.

Superintendent of Free Schools—I. B. Bush, Summers county.

30 Bullets Didn't Drop Balloon.

Madgeburg, July 30.—The army today made experiments in shooting at a captive balloon at a distance of 2½ miles. Although it was struck thirty times the balloon did not collapse.

Georgia Postmasters.

Washington, D. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Grover Barnhill appointed regular; Raymond A. Hogan, substitute, rural carrier route No. 3 at Glennwood.

Postmasters appointed: Norburne P. Moore, Gabbettville, Troup county, vice W. L. Turner, resigned; Queen Strickland, Lenas, Liberty county, vice H. E. Strickland, resigned. Daniel Cowart, Millwood, Ware county, vice J. J. Hargroves, removed; Walter J. Hardee, Mineola, Lowndes county, vice J. W. McPhail, dead.

FELL 2,000 FEET TO HIS DEATH

Aeronaut Lived Five Minutes After Striking the Ground.

Jackson, Mich., July 30.—William Oliver, a young aeronaut, of Mason, Mich., was killed today while making a parachute drop at Hague park, on Vandercook lake, near here. Just as the parachute filled, the strings on one side snapped and the aeronaut dropped 2,000 feet to his death, the parachute trailing, a useless rag, after him. Oliver landed near a crowded merry-go-round and lived five minutes after being carried to the nearest house.

Was Bitten by Dog.

Rome, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—While playing with a number of his little friends Wednesday, Howard, the 12-year-old adopted son of Dr. R. B. Headden, was bitten by a vicious dog on his upper lip, causing a painful and ugly wound. The little fellow was carried to his home, where medical attention was given him. At last accounts there were no signs of the wound resulting seriously. The dog was immediately confined and is being watched to see if hydrophobia develops.

Rev. Luther Freeman Called.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—Rev. Luther Freeman, pastor of the First Methodist church, of this city, has received a call to the pastorate of the Independence Avenue Methodist church, Kansas City, Mo. Dr. Freeman has not yet decided as to whether he will accept the call.

SAVANNAH'S FIRST BALE GIVEN TO BRYAN FUND

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The first bale of "factors' cotton" or that received in the ordinary course of business for this season was bought today at the Savannah exchange by Murray M. Stewart for the Bryan Democratic Club.

It was immediately compressed, placarded and shipped to Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, New York. The placard announces that it is the first bale, and concludes "As surely as cotton is king, Bryan will be elected president."

The bale is to be auctioned off in Tammany Hall, and the proceeds will be devoted to the Bryan campaign fund.

6 MEN KILLED AND 60 HURT

Bloody Clash Between French Strikers and the Troops.

STRIKERS INVADE VIGNEUX

They Throw Up Barricades and Fight Desperately Against the Soldiers—General Strike Is Declared.

Paris, July 30.—Six dead and sixty injured is the casualty record of the first day of a general strike declared by the General Federation of Labor of Paris, as a demonstration and protest against the killing of workmen by troops at Vigneux. The reports indicate that fifty thousand men of the building and allied trades, including electricians, stopped work.

Vigneux was invaded today by several thousand strikers from Paris carrying red flags and singing socialist songs. While a squadron of cavalry was passing through the streets the crowds stoned the soldiers, and four shots were fired at them. Fortunately no one was hit. The commander of the cavalry turned his men down a side street in order to avoid the collision.

Barricades Were Charged.

The strikers on the house-tops threw a shower of stones at the soldiers as the barricades were charged and captured.

During the afternoon the cavalrymen, using the flats of their sabers, charged and dispersed a crowd, armed with stones that has assembled on the railroad track.

The situation grew worse after the clash at the railroad tracks. The strikers took possession of a building in process of construction and threw blocks of stone at the heads of the troopers, several of whom were wounded. The soldiers fired and two strikers were seriously wounded.

By 8:30 o'clock this evening, comparative calm had been restored, owing to the firm and energetic action of the authorities.

Carried Wounded With Them.

The manifestants were driven from position after position, and finally took a train for Paris, carrying their wounded with them. Eye-witnesses describe the fighting at the barricade as the most serious incidents of the day.

The situation became so desperate that the soldiers were ordered to fire several volleys, first in the air and then at the mob. Two men were killed and a large number wounded, fifteen of them seriously. The troops finally made a determined charge and dislodged the workmen, who fled.

Premier Clemenceau has instructed the public prosecutor to proceed to Vigneux to open an investigation of today's riots and to vigorously prosecute the instigators of it.

STEEL AND FIRE USED ON WOMAN

Doctors Also Think That Murderers Used Poison.

New York, July 30.—That at least two men were concerned in the murder of the unidentified woman, whose half-charred and acid-seared body was found on the Green Point avenue dumping ground, in Williamsburg, Brooklyn, early yesterday morning, was established today by the police.

Philip O'Brien, a laborer of Green Point, saw a covered wagon driven to the camp at dawn yesterday. Two men got out and lifted from the wagon what the witness supposed to be an old mattress.

Burning the Corpse.

He saw the men pile a heap of brush on the mattress, pour oil over it, and then set fire to the bundle. Believing the mattress was being destroyed because it was disease-infected, the man avoided the spot. There can be no doubt but that the mattress was the one in which the body of the murdered woman was concealed.

This important development has given the police valuable aid, for it led to the discovery that the covered wagon was seen by several other persons, and the police now have a minute description of the two men who were in it. They were foreigners.

The wagon was seen by a Mrs. Murray, who lives in the neighborhood. It was seen going to the Green Point ferry by another witness, and the gate-keeper at the ferry remembers checking such a wagon with two men in it when the ferry boat Alaska made an early morning trip to East Twenty-third street, Manhattan.

Cutting Done by Surgeon.

Another startling feature of the case was disclosed when Coroner's Physician Guest made a second autopsy on the corpse. His first autopsy revealed a deep cut across the woman's throat. The second autopsy shows that this cut was made by a person who is an expert in surgery. The incision, says the coroner's physician, is such as is made in desperate cases of diphtheria, where it is necessary to pierce the windpipe to prevent strangulation.

Besides the incision in the woman's throat, her skull was fractured, and the police believe that poison may also have been used to make thrice sure of her death.

Failure to establish the identity of the victim is the greatest obstacle the police have to overcome in solving the mystery.

WATSON PREFERS TAFT TO BRYAN

Populist Nominee So Declares In Savannah Speech.

TAFT BETTER FOR SOUTH

Watson Says This Section Has More to Hope From Republican Than From Democrat—Bryan Is Denounced by Watson.

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Crowds filled the Savannah theater to overflowing to hear Thomas E. Watson tonight. A brass band and a committee of local populists met the candidate at the depot, and he was compelled to hold a reception until he went to the theater.

His speech was a denunciation of Bryan and a plea that the solid south be broken. He declared that Taft, following Roosevelt's policies, would do more for the south than Bryan.

Watson Calls Bryan a "Renegade."

Mr. Watson declared that Bryan is a deserter from democratic principles, branded him as a regenade, and declared that the democratic platform is but a job-lot of stuff designed to catch votes, and having no other purpose in view but to place Bryan in the white house.

He ridiculed Bryan's attempt to set himself right in the matter of the vote for Crisp for speaker, and declared Bryan had admitted to Alfred Henry Lewis that if he voted for an ex-confederate he could never face the old soldiers on the Platte. He declared that Bryan's letter to Crisp's son was an evasion, and not a direct denial of the charge against him.

He predicted Bryan's certain defeat, and pleaded for a rift in the solid south in order that this section of the country may secure political independence. He scored Bryan for his play for negro votes, charging him with trampling upon southern feelings and southern pride.

Bryan and the South.

He said that Bryan would do nothing for the south, either now or in the event of his election; that Bryan's followers should not be known as democrats, but as Bryanites or imitation Tafites. He asserted that Bryan had broken all the vows he had made in the past to stand by democratic principles.

He stated that Roosevelt's administration has proven a better friend to the south than Bryan will be, because of its action regarding the Brownsville matter; its acquiescence in the matter of negro disfranchisement, and its non-enforcement of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments to the constitution. He declared negro leaders had had conferences with Bryan, and seemed highly pleased with what he has said to them.

BATTLE WAS SPECTACULAR.

Both the Blues and the Browns Claim the Victory.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—In a mimic battle that was very spectacular and remarkable for the brilliancy of the moves and maneuvers made by the opposing troops, the Virginia troops, aided by regulars and known as the Blue army, met the Carolina regiment, also aided by regulars, and known as the Brown army, this morning.

The official decision of the umpires has not been given out, and will not be made public until the report of General Potts, commander of the entire encampment, is made to the secretary of war. The Brown army, having been ordered to advance to prevent the enemy from crossing the Alexander Bridge, did not arrive in time to do so, and the Blues got over safely and met the Browns on the other side.

The officers of the Blue army contend that they secured an advantage when they arrived and crossed the bridge ahead of the Browns. The Browns, however, contend that they took the bridge position while the Blues were in the open and very much exposed to their fire.

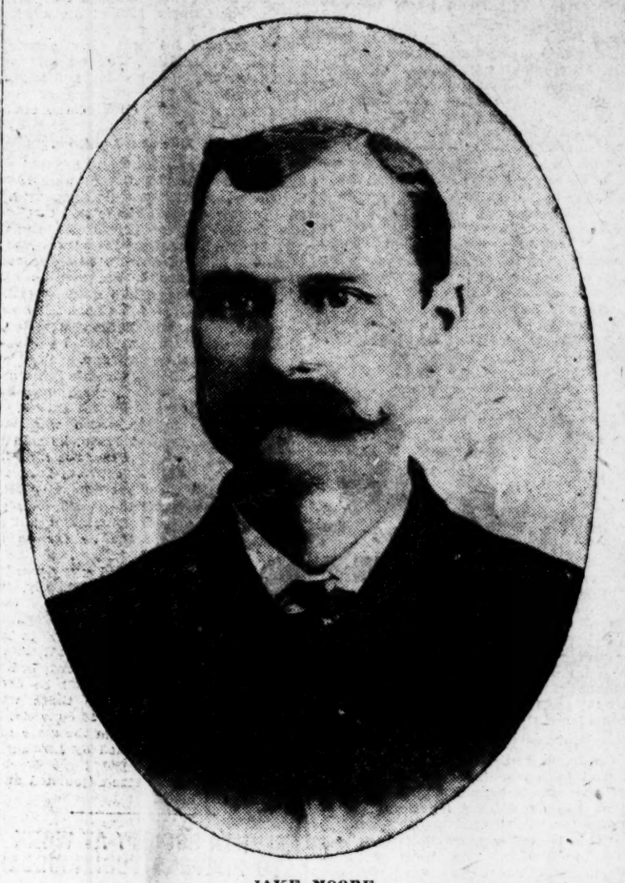

Company E, First South Carolina, captured a detachment of the Blues consisting of twenty men of the Twelfth cavalry, United States army. They were praised by the regular officers for this move. The battery fire from the Browns' artillery was very effective.

INJURED AT CAMP TAFT.

Horse Fell on Alabama Supreme Court Reporter.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 30.—First Lieutenant and Adjutant Leon McCord, of the Third battalion, Third Alabama infantry, was injured at Camp Taft today. He was riding a spirited horse, which became frightened, and rearing, fell backward, alighting squarely on the officer, pinning him to the ground. It is not yet known how seriously Lieutenant McCord is hurt. Mr. McCord is court reporter of the supreme court of Alabama.

THE FORMER CHIEF WARDEN

JAKE MOORE,

Former Chief Warden of the Georgia Penitentiary, Now Holding the Spotlight in the Legislative Investigation.

CITY OF MEMPHIS DODGED STORM

Savannah Steamer Probably on Outer Edge of Hurricane.

NO APPREHENSION FOR SHIP

Reports Show but Little Damage Done Along the Coast—The Storm Seems to Have Spent Its Force at Sea.

Savannah, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Local Weather Observer Boyer states that Savannah and this vicinity has had its luckiest escape in many years from a West Indian cyclone, the storm center passing to the northeast off Tybee too far to be felt here, but striking in the vicinity of Wilmington and Hatteras. The storm there is said to be of terrific force, especially out at sea. The city of Memphis, which sailed Tuesday, will probably strike the outer edge of the disturbance, and no apprehension is felt here over the safety of that vessel. Hurricane warnings have been issued in the vicinity of the storm, and storm warnings have been up in Savannah with short interruptions for several days.

Little Damage at Wrightsville.

Wilmington, N. C., July 30.—The northeast storm which has been central off this coast for a day or two, reached its height during the early hours of this morning, although no serious damage is reported at Wrightsville Beach, where several hundred summer visitors were dependent upon a long trestle over the sound. Some anxiety was felt on account of the high winds and tides, and a majority of the residents and transient population left on special trains operated during the night.

All were handled safely, and the resort suffered little from the storm.

Storm at Norfolk.

Norfolk, Va., July 30.—The West Indian storm, which is now sweeping the Atlantic coast, had at noon today reached Hatteras, on the Carolina coast, with a wind velocity of 50 miles an hour. At Cape Henry there was a maximum wind velocity of 36 miles an hour, with a heavy rain and dense fog. The winds are shifting the sand so at Cape Henry that a force of men has to be kept at work clearing the railroad tracks to prevent the blocking of traffic.

The Virginia coast is tonight in the grasp of a tropical storm, sweeping up the coast.

At 10 p. m., the velocity of the wind at Cape Henry was forty miles an hour, steadily increasing, and a high sea running. An unknown three-masted schooner is reported ashore at New Inlet, thirty miles down the coast.

Although not on duty, the life-savers are standing by. The vessel was anchored in the inlet, and the dragging of her anchor caused her to go ashore.

Hurricane at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., July 30.—In a storm here today four coal-laden barges, valued with their cargoes at $12,000, sank in the Mississippi river. The barges belonged to the Monongahela River Consolidated Coal and Coke Company. The wind blew down trees in several sections of the city, while heavy rains caused an inundation of outlying parts of the city. Skiffs were used in several streets.

Reports from the state tonight indicated that the storm was general, and that the rice crops in western Louisiana suffered much damage.

INFAMOUS LIE, SAYS COMPERS

Denies Story That He Said He'd Deliver Labor Vote.

NOT QUESTION OF POLITICS

Gompers Says He Has No Politics Except Politics of People—He Declares That He Is Being Attacked by Labor Outcasts and Renegades.

Washington, July 30.—"The report that I have ever said that I would or could deliver the labor vote to any political party is an infamous lie," said Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, today. "Organized labor is not only honest, but intelligent enough to choose the party for its support which will best represent its interests.

"It is possible that by lies and misrepresentations the enemies of organized labor may injure me personally, and even be successful in accomplishing my removal as president of the American Federation of Labor," said Mr. Gompers, "but that will never change my course in battling for the principles for which I stand.

Not a Question of Politics.

"It is not a question of politics with me. I have no politics, or if I have, it is the politics of the people.

"I fully expected when I took the stand which I have," said Mr. Gompers, "that some would disagree with me. I don't expect the labor world to accept my conclusions in every instance. I expected to be criticised, too, in some quarters, but I did not think that the criticism would be so unjust as to be contemptible.

"I stand for the right of individual opinion.

"I want no political office or honor. I have nothing for sale, and don't propose to begin at this late day by selling my honor.

His Position Set Forth.

"My editorial in The American Federationist plainly and forcefully sets forth my position. Those who have taken issue with the position therein set forth, not, understand me, with the position I am alleged to have assumed, are political renegades and discredited outcasts of labor. I do not mean that those who differ with my opinion are such, but those who have denounced me and claim that I have not set forth the facts as they are."

Frank H. Hitchcock, republican national chairman, when asked as to the truth of the report that a personal campaign was to be waged against Mr. Gompers, replied:

"Nothing of the kind has been arranged."

HOLLAND SENDS BATTLESHIP

To Cruise Off Venezuela as a Warning to Castro.

The Hague, July 30.—Orders have been issued that the battleship Jacob Van Heemskerk be made ready to sail for the Caribbean sea, and it is expected that she will start without diay.

It is explained unofficially that this battleship is the only reinforcement the government contemplates sending to the West Indies. The main object of sending the Jacob Van Heemskerk to the West Indies is to have a second ship handy in case, for any reason, the cruiser Gelderland, which is at present in Venezuelan waters, should not be available at the moment wanted. The Gelderland is at present the only Dutch war vessel in the West Indies.

The Jacob Van Heemskerk is one of the two biggest battleships belonging to Holland. She has a displacement of 5,130 tons, and can steam 16 knots. Her armament consists of two 9.4-inch, 6 5.9-inch guns, 6 12-pounder quick-firing guns, etc., and two torpedo tubes.

COMMISSIONERS KNEW WARDENS RECEIVED PAY FROM CONVICT LESSEES

BETHUNE TALKS OF REFORMATORY

Superintendent Tells Committee Handicaps of Institution.

BOYS FOND OF ESCAPING

Superintendent Bethune Says That White and Negro Boys Play Together in Yards—Superintendent and Wife Make Up Whole Working Force.

The poverty-stricken condition of the Georgia state reformatory for juvenile criminals was strongly emphasized at the hearing before the legislative committee investigating the state convict system, by Superintendent B. T. Bethune last night.

The institution has been seriously handicapped by lack of funds ever since it opened its doors. It has not the proper equipment for training either the minds or hands of the restless and derelict inmates. It is not even located on good farming land.

The state reformatory was established by the legislature to save juvenile delinquents from further contamination at the high school of deeper criminality—the convict camp.

The beneficent purpose of its founders was to give mental and moral training, practical instruction and inspiring object lessons to the inmates.

Deficient in Many Ways.

Superintendent Bethune states that it nowhere approaches what it was intended to be. It has neither the buildings, the equipment nor the force of teachers and guards needed to do effective work.

It appears from the testimony of Mr. Bethune that he and his wife make up the whole teaching and administrative force of the institution. He is the superintendent, purchasing agent, bookkeeper, guard, prefect of discipline and several other things, and his wife gives the illiterate white inmates the only knowledge of books and letters they acquired.

There is one large building on the farm. In this all the inmates, white and black, big and little sleep. The white boys are separated from the negro boys in the biuilding, but they mingle freely on the yard. The one white girl inmate has a room in the private apartments reserved for Superintendent Bethune and his wife.

There is a barn and some few other outhouses and some implements for cultivating crops. As for implements and tools for manual training work, they are unknown. Books are exceedingly few. The boys cultivate crops that will grow on the poor land and whenever they get an opportunity—escape. There have been 34 escapes in the nineteen months the institution has been run, but 27 were recaptured.

With only one large building and no more protection to keep people either in or out than is usually found in the ordinary dwelling, the boys are able to depart whenever they feel an inclination to travel. On his own hook Mr. Bethune bought about $200 worth of bars and netting and that helped to keep the boys in somewhat better. When he ordered these supplies, he did not know where the money was coming from to pay for them.

Strive for Moral Betterment.

Mr. Bethune stated to the committee that he and his wife were doing everything possible with the meager facilities at his disposal to carry out the reformatory idea which should prevail in such an institution.

He and his wife have tried to instill moral precepts and Christian principles into the wayward boys. He explained to the committee his system of keeping the records of inmates and their progress toward reformation. He said inmates were sent to the farm under indeterminate sentences. He was given authority to recommend pardons or dismissals where they were deserved, but so far had not recommended either in the case of any inmate. Two boys had been pardoned.

Not All Youthful Offenders.

That the male offenders committed to his care are not all youthful, was the complaint of Mr. Bethune. He said he has one man who is over 20. He is James Blake, of Savannah, whom witness said had been tried for burglary, after three similar charges had been made against him. To the trial judge he stated he was only 16, his father said the family Bible corroborated this statement and the judge referred the offender to the reformatory. Upon his arrival, in giving the answers to questions for the official records he stated that his age was 19.

Asked if he permitted the man to remain, Mr. Bethune answered that he did not know he had any discretion in the matter, but thought the law required him to accept all prisoners sent him. Chairman Felder hastened to assure him that such was not the case.

Embarrassed by Negroes.

Mr. Bethune told the committee he and his wife had been greatly embarrassed by the presence of negroes at the farm and their inability to separate the races more effectively.

Despite the poor quality of the land, he firmly believes that in time with proper cultivation the farm will be self-supporting.

As to the method of punishment he employs, he stated that he used the credit system and marked the boys up for good behavior and charged up against them any punishment.

Mr. Bethune said he considered the location of the farm all right. He thought if the legislature and the prison commission would give him a fair chance and a reasonable amount of money for supplies, equipment and maintenance, he could operate a reformatory that would be of immense and lasting advantage to the state.

Question Discussed at Meeting of Commission and Lessees, Says Witness.

REPORTS OF THE WARDENS VERY OFTEN INACCURATE AND NOT MADE UNDER OATH

Colonel James W. English and Dr. Hamby Were Present Waiting to Be Called, but Were Finally Excused Until This Afternoon at 3 O'Clock.

The Felder investigating committee sat from 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon until 10:05 o'clock last night, with a recess of one hour and a half for supper, and during that time heard testimony which showed that practically every warden in the state has been receiving extra pay from lessees.

The prison commission has known of this condition since last November, testified J. M. Fagan, who said he attended a conference of lessees, at which all three members of the prison commission were present. This matter was discussed, but the commissioners expressed no opinion.

Dr. W. B. Hamby was shown to be so influential with the prison commission that he has guaranteed in advance to furnish a competent state warden in making contracts to deliver convicts. He leased to one party for $52.50 a month convicts he had originally secured at $225 a year, making a profit of $405 on each man.

George F. Hurt testified that when he had trouble with convicts his company had leased he was advised by Dr. J. R. Brock, the camp physician, to "see" Jake Moore. Witness replied that he was not in that kind of business. Mr. Hurt also told of an incident in which one convict killed another with a pick in trying to subdue him.

The same witness testified that from his experience the state convict system was being operated for the advantage of a few lessees and to the disadvantage of many lessees.

Got Tip From Commission.

T. D. Meador told of the incident in which W. B. Lowe had bid on convicts as the representative of a syndicate of lessees, and after being tipped off by the prison commission to raise his bid, and being awarded 700 convicts on the amended bid, declined to carry out original contract made with his friend and kept all the men himself.

C. H. Lowe, of Milltown, told of being presented with a gold watch by the convicts under his care and their petition unanimously signed for him to be retained at the camp or requesting their removal if he was removed. The petition was circulated following a rumor that he would be removed.

M. O. Maxwell, the warden at the Lookout Mountain Coal and Coke Company, who cursed a convict in the presence of a legislative investigating committee, when the committee was trying to ascertain from him facts as to conditions at the camp, sought to explain that incident. He said the incident occurred late in the afternoon, and he was in a hurry to return to camp before dark, as many of the men had shortly before that escaped on the homeward march. He invited the committee to visit the quarters of the men, but this invitation was declined.

Witness said he was receiving the very nice salary of $50 a month from

C. F. von HERRMANN,
Section Director.

Colonel English for the recreation incident to riding the woods on Sunday. Witness said if the salary was $200 for no work at all, he would accept it even more readily. He did not think it was wrong to accept anything he could get from lessees.

When Maxwell asked if he should leave his books with the committee before making out his monthly reports, Chairman Felder replied that the committee already had in its possession enough reports, but was trying to discover some facts.

Wardens without end testified that their reports to the committee were improperly made out and not submitted under oath. No protest or reprimand from the prison commission was ever received. So far as the commission could tell from the reports one man sent in, the convicts under his care had not been fed for eighteen months.

Dr. W. B. Hamby and Colonel J. W. English, Jr., were in the room all afternoon waiting to be called. At the close of the afternoon session they were excused until this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Dr. Holmes Given Time.

Upon calling the committee to order Chairman Felder read a letter from Dr. Holmes, asking that his appearance before the committee be deferred until next Monday afternoon, as he was attending a child patient, upon whom he had performed an operation. His request was granted.

George F. Hurt was recalled to the stand. He was asked further about deals with Jake Moore in reference to convicts employed by the Georgia Railroad and Mining Company, and the Georgia Coal and Iron Company, and also about convicts used by him as receiver of the Georgia Steel Company. He said it was his usual practice to pay a salary to the warden of his camp for extra work done.

He said the state's chief warden had never, so far as he knew, secured a profit on the transfer of convicts from one camp to another. He recalled that J. R. Brock once offered to secure transfer of one batch of 50 men.

He recalled three instances where men were killed in his camps by fellow convicts. One time a warden was indirectly responsible. A large negro became unruly; backed up against the bank in a railroad camp and defied the assistant warden to take him. One convict offered to subdue the negro, and armed with a pick approached him, dodged a lick with a heavy pick and stuck his own pick up to the handle in the negro's face, the point reaching down to the negro's lungs. From this wound the negro died in a year or fifteen months with pneumonia or tuberculosis. The case was reported to the commission, but Jim Blevin, the assistant warden, was not disciplined for using one convict to subdue another.

Told to "See" Jake Moore.

Witness told of having trouble in geting proper labor out of convicts and complained to Colonel English, from whom he secured them. Colonel English answered that the trouble was witness did not know how to get in right with the powers that be; that he ought to "see" Jake Moore. He understood by this that Colonel English meant for him to personally interest Jake Moore in the work of the camp. Dr. J. R. Brock also told witness he was not lined up right with the commission. Witness told him he had approached the commission in the proper spirit and wished to do business with them in the proper way.

Dr. Brock said he was entirely familiar with the entire situation and that the proper man to approach was Jake Moore. The witness said he answered: "This is the kind of business we do not do." He said intangible suggestions of this kind were floating around everywhere. He continued:

"We told the prison commission one day that the way in which convicts were handled who were leased to certain lessees as contrasted with the way convicts leased to other lessees were handled, was causing talk about the commision and bringing them into disrepute."

Asked by Mr. Candler if he thought there was explicit enough notice, witness said his company was already in bad with the commission and did not care to make themselves more unpopular.

The Favored Lessees.

Asked what lessees were particularly favored, he said J. W. English, Jr., got along very well with the commission, and also Hamby & Toomer.

He recalled some difficulty with Hamby & Toomer over extending lease for some convicts, which he had secured from them at a price of $28 a month. The matter was taken into the courts, and settled in favor of claimant. The prison commission attempted to take over the case from Hamby & Toomer, but were enjoined by court from withdrawing convicts.

He narrated a case in which Dr. J. R. Brock, the camp physician, had befriended the company. A number of men were ill in camp, and the trouble was reported to the prison commission, with the idea that men could be sent to the state farm. No change was made, and Dr. Brock then suggested that they be transferred to another camp. He said he would probably be called upon to examine the men, and there would be no trouble on that score.

Asked if he knew of any irregularities in the present system, he said it seemed to be operated for the benefit of certain lessees, and to the detriment of others.

T. D. Meador on Stand.

T. D. Meador, vice president of the Lowry National bank, the next witness, stated that ten years ago he was president of the Southern Mining Company, and worked convicts for four years, and then sold out to Joel Hurt.

Duke Brock was his warden, and he paid him as his storekeeper, but did not know amount. Didn't know if Moore or prison commission knew of it.

He stated, further, that when he took charge, Dr. Brock was physician, and he later employed him as assistant superintendent, eventually appointing him superintendent. He also stated that Dr. Brock's duties as physician did not interfere with his duties as camp physician.

Regarding a deal for convicts, witness stated that the late W. B. Lowe represented his company as agent when the state had 2,000 convicts to lease out in 1897. He then explained the deal as follows: He agreed with Lowe to bid $96, and Lowe was to represent him at the bidding before the prison commission. The prison commission phoned him that they had disposed of 1,300 convicts, and that a bid of $98 would get the other 700. Lowe raised his bid and witness saw in papers next day that Lowe had been awarded 700 convicts. When he called on Lowe the latter said that witness was not in the deal, as he only authorized him to bid $96, and it required $98 to get them. He said he took the matter up with the prison commission, and then tried to sue them, but the court held that the prison commission was part of the state, and he could not enjoin the state. He tried to sue Lowe, but he died before suit was tried. He stated that he thought J. W. English, Jr., got the 700 convicts from Lowe, who was his father-in-law.

Witness stated he secured 27 convicts from J. W. English, Jr., leasing them outright, and that he paid $168 a head for them.

Warden Received Extra Pay.

C. H. Lowe, a deputy warden at Milltown Lumber Company, was next witness, and stated that he received extra compensation of $25 to $50, but that he discontinued when letter was received from prison commission. Also stated he took Mitchell's place and only had one death in three years; he had been warden. This, he said, was a negro who had escaped, and was shot a half mile from camp by a free negro who tried to capture him. The man died the next day.

Regarding work at camp, he stated he worked ninety-eight men in the day and three at night. The night men were paid $5.50 a month for this work. He said he complied with law as to working hours and rest hours.

Witness said, as to diet report, that he never signed or swore to them, and had never been corrected. Also said the men received white bread every day.

Regarding his treatment of the men, he said that when it was rumored that he was to be transferred, the 101 convicts under his care wrote a letter to the prison commission requesting that he be kept there, and he exhibited a gold watch given him by the convicts, which he said money could not buy. The prison commission let him stay there, and he is still there.

Witness stated there was no bath house or hospital when he went there, but he had put one in.

M. A. Candler, a deputy warden at the Muscogee Brick and Terra Cotta Company at Columbus, Ga., was the next witness. He stated he had been there since June, 1908, and received no extra pay.

He stated he complies with rules as to food, bedding, work and rest hours.

Heard of Man Smothered.

A. J. Howard, of Jokin, Miller county, employed at the camp of the Flowers Lumber Company for the past six years, said he had been receiving $25 a month for pulling dry lumber out of kiln each morning. He refused this since April 1. Said he had often whipped men, but never whipped one until he died. Said he heard that two years before he went to camp, man had been wrapped in blankets and smothered to death. He knew nothing about the incident.

J. R. Corbett said he received small extra compensation as woods rider at lumber camp of Representative Culbreth in Echols county.

Will Williams, employed at the state farm, next took the stand. Asked if any of the women and men were kept separate, he said they were. Askes if any of the women had had children, he replied that two negro women had given birth to children since he had been at the farm. His investigation, he said, convinced him that convicts were responsible for their condition. Hackett, a white man, and Josh, a negro, were said to have been the fathers of the children. Hackett was a trusty, running a pump. Witness had never heard that the guards were criminally intimate with the female convicts.

Representative Edwards Heard.

J. C. Edwards, chairman of the legislative committee which visited the camp of the Chattahoochee Brick Company, told of conditions at that camp as found by the committee.

He said men were forced to go on a trot; that many worked in brick kilns where the heat was so intense it did not seem possible for men to exist long in it. One man had been on a trot for fifteen years, and witness did not see how he had stood it. The beds were dirty and the mess hall filthy.

Witness said committee had recommended dismissal of Captain Casey because they considered he had overworked convicts and treated them inhumanely.

Got Convicts From Hamby.

J. P. Stetson, president of the Stetson Lumber Company at Arlington, Ga., stated that he had worked convicts for the past sixteen months, and that he received them from Dr. Hamby.

He said he paid his warden, Mr. Holliday, $25 a month for watching misdemeanor convicts. He received a letter from the prison commission to stop pay and did not answer. Does not know if warden is still being paid, as it was a surprise to him, as Mr. Mathews, the representative at Arlington, looked after that end, Stetson being located in Macon.

Was Worth Extra Pay.

J. L. Gordon, deputy warden of the Durham Coal and Coke Company for the past fourteen months, said he had been receiving extra salary of $50 a month for looking after company's property. He also looked after supplies, clothing, shoes, etc.

He testified that W. D. James, president of the company, had told him salary was paid him to look after the company's property, and not to influence him as warden. Said he considered his work worth this extra pay. From the state, he received $75 a month.

He said there had been a great many accidents at the mine, which he reported to the prison commission. Sometimes ten or twelve men were in hospital at one time, having been injured by falling slate. Said men were careless, and did not put up props carefully. Sometimes men were hurt by cars in the mine. Eight men out of 238 now in hospital.

Witness formerly worked for six years at Captain Maxwell's camp, which is owned by Captain English.

Said most common cause of punishment was shortage in work of men. Witness said he whipped thirty men a month on an average. Mr. Candler read from reports showing witness had reported from forty-five to sixty-three men a month. Said he had a very bad lot of men.

Witness did not swear to reports made to the prison commission, as prescribed by law, but stated that he had never been called down for this omission. He said he was now working for $75, whereas he formerly received $125. He was asked by the prison commission to remain on in the hopes the legislature would authorize higher pay for wardens.

He said that all cases of men hurt in the mines were reported to prison commission. Witness reported seven in hospital at one time, five having been wounded by falling slate. He inspected the mines as state warden, and said he duly reported any defects. He did not prescribe tasks for the men, as this was done by the bank boss. He said Dr. McCowan came to the camp every day.

Witness said legislative committee which visited the camp did not ask him the direct question about pay he was receiving. He had provided a jug of whisky for legislative visitors, and many partook. Upon being shown his whipping report, covering two pages, witness said he whipped men for not completing tasks set by the mine boss. He stated, however, that he made an investigation before administering whippings, and that it kept him pretty busy.

Paid for Riding on Sunday.

M. O. Maxwell, of the Lookout Mountain Coal and Coke Company, said he received $50 extra for riding every Sunday over the land owned by Captain English. His last salary payment was in April. He would have continued to receive it if Colonel English had continued to pay it. Neither Jake Moore nor prison commission knew he was receiving extra pay.

Said there were ten men now in hospital, five or six had injured themselves by sticking picks in their feet and limbs. Two or three men recently killed by falling slate, and men are frequently injured in this way.

Witness admitted sending incomplete diet reports to prison commission. So far as latter knew from reports, the men at camp had not received anything to eat in eighteen months. Jake Moore visited camp occasionally.

Witness said he now had 140 men in camp. He said he whipped "right smart," usually for idleness or when men did not complete their tasks. His records show thirty or forty whippings a month; said he had whipped 40 new men at one time to "break them in." Witness said that on visits of inspection Captain Burke and Captain Deadwyler do not go down into the mine to investigate causes of injuries to convicts.

Asked if men could spare the time to properly prop the chambers in which they worked to protect themselves from falling slate, and still complete their required tasks, he answered simply: "The men have to work."

Witness was asked about his salary of $50 for riding the woods on Sunday.

"That's pretty good salary, ain't it?" remarked witness.

"You hardly consider it working at all, do you?" asked Mr. Felder.

The witness answered that he did not, that it was recreation more than anything else. He said if they offered him the same amount or four times the amount for doing no work at all, he would have taken it very readily, and considered the lessees very nice men.

Wanted Facts, Not Reports.

On leaving the stand witness was asked to leave his books in the office of the prison commission. He replied that he had not yet made out his reports for the current month.

"This is rather more important," said Senator Felder. "We have more reports here now than anything else. What we are trying to get at are facts."

A. J. Ivy, a deputy warden at the Lookout Mountain camp, formerly at Palmer Brick Company, was the next witness. He state dhe received $40 from the Palmer Brick Company and nothing from the Lookout Mountain camp. He stated he worked at night with free labor, thereby earning his money. Both these camps are owned by J. W. English, Jr., and Colonel English got him the position as warden. He said the state paid him $50.

Witness was formerly on the city police force, then with city stockade, and then went to Palmer Brick Company. He and his men were transferred from the Palmer Brick Company to the Lookout Mountain camp.

When witness was questioned he stated he had a good set of men at the Palmer Brick Company, and did not have to whip them, but when he took them to the Lookout Monntain camp he had to whip them a good deal for not completing their specified tasks. He admitted that he could not keep them under his eye as he did at the brick camp, and had to take the testimony of the mine boss as to their failure to complete specified work.

Upon being more closely questioned as to the great increase in the number of whippings, he said there were a pretty tough set of men at the Lookout camp, but added forty-two of the men were those he had brought with him. They became demoralized after they got there, or the tasks assigned them were too hard for their strength. One-third of the camp was whipped in one month, according to reports. The explanation of witness was that he could not keep them under his watchful eye.

J. M. Fagan, secretary and treasurer of the Muscogee Brick and Terra Cotta Company, paid warden $50 a month until April 1, to act as superintendent of plant. Commission knew of this payment. Warden left last April upon being ordered to discontinue receiving pay from company. Several lessees of convicts met upon invitation in office of prison commission in November, 1907, and discussed payments being made to wardens. All members of the commission were present at hearing, but made no reply to lessees about extra pay to wardens.

Witness bought convicts from Dr. W. B. Hamby, paying $52.50 per month for each man. Dr. Hamby promised that he would get good warden. Before lease was consummated Dr. Hamby arranged to get Warden Conyers. He did not discuss matter with prison commission at all, Dr. Hamby having arranged the whole matter.

At 6:30 o'clock the committee went into executive session, after which a recess was declared until 8 o'clock.

At the Night Session.

A man who was formerly a convict at Milledgeville, but now a practicing physician, was the first witness at the night session. Regarding cruel treatment, he saw a man whipped 120 licks one Sunday morning. This convict died about a month later from dropsy.

Witness stated he is a physician, and was in a position to know when men were sick. He took one man's temperature; it was 104 1-2, but Captain Slater whipped him just the same. Doctor at camp made man stay in, but warden whipped him anyway.

He spoke of the men being worked in rain, sleet or snow, and made to sleep in wet clothes.

Captain Slater, the warden, was a drinking man, said witness, and he had a scrap, and witness was overpowered and was then whipped. He was injured seriously, and had to have a delicate operation performed, and witness stated he was injured permanently.

He spoke of one instance in which he refused to be whipped, and Captain Slater shot him in the ankle, breaking the bone.

He was sent to Chattahoochee Brick Company first, and played insane, and Dr. Greene had him sent to the asylum at Milledgeville. He said he went from the asylum to the state farm.

Regarding cruelty at Chattahoochee Brick Company, he stated that following a whipping, given by the warden, a negro died.

Witness stated that Captain Casey curses nearly every word he speaks, and he carries the whip around, and the men all step lively when he speaks.

Witness stated that the food was bad. He stated also that he did not consider Dr. Green a good doctor.

His Wardens Were Paid.

B. P. O'Neal, the next witness, stated he worked convicts at Richmond until 1902. He worked 150 felony convicts and 60 misdemeanor convicts.

Witness stated that he paid his deputy wardens $25 to $35. He did not know if the prison commission knew it, but he did not conceal it. He paid his wardens for looking after the misdemeanor men. He also paid state guard for looking after stockade $12.50, citing instances that happened that caused him to do this.

Witness testified that a statement appearing in the papers recently from an ex-convict to the effect that he gave a check to Jake Moore was an error. He stated the check was received from Moore for a shipment of shingles he had shipped him at the market price.

Witness said he got his convicts from J. W. English, Jr., on one occasion getting 75 in the lot, and paying $13.25. He got his misdemeanor convicts from the ordinaries of the counties.

Moore Bought Lumber.

The most interesting facts brought out by J. H. Flowers, of the Flowers Lumber Company, was that his company had sold lumber to Jake Moore and to Goodloe Yancey, of the prison commission. Mr. Moore, according to witness, still owes a balance of about $150 on account of sale made five or six months ago. Witness said Moore had always settled for lumber bought of the firm. His references to Goodloe Yancey were confined to the statement that he bought some lumber two years ago.

Asked about conditions at his Jakin and Blakely camps, he said three men had died at Blakely from natural causes.

In reference to the negro who was smothered to death at Jakin, he said he had heard about it first through a notice in The Constitution. Vittatoe was the warden at the time, but has since died. He said he presumed the matter was reported to the prison commission, but no investigation was made so far as he knew.

He admitted having paid every warden he had ever employed at Blakely, but made no attempt to conceal the fact. Wardens Jackson, Tyson and Boyd all received salaries ranging from $40 to $50. He discontinued payments last April. At Jakin his warden is Harvard, but he did not recall whether or not he drew extra pay. At each camp there were employed one warden and 58 convicts, 50 being felony convicts from the state and 8 were convicts furnished by Lassing & Co.

At 10:05 the committee adjourned until today at 3 o'clock.

THE MARIETTA ARRIVES.

Norwegian Says United States Officers Are Looking for Trouble.

Mobile, Ala., July 30.—Captain Boe, of the Norwegian steamer Colombia, which arrived here today, three days out from Celba, Honduras, reports the arrival there of the United States gunboat Marietta, and that the officers are looking out for trouble.

Captain Boe is one of those who do not believe that all the trouble in Honduras is over, but he says the government has things well under control. The government troops are yet on guard at Celba, Truxillo, Tela, Puerto Cortez and San Pedro. The labor situation is better at Celba than at any other point in Honduras.

Captain Boe says that the number of people killed in the engagement outside of Celba was twelve, and a number were wounded. The master of the Colombia reports that the steamer Goldsboro was still in port when he left there, and that she was still leaking and that her pumps were going night and day. Some of the cargo is yet in the vessel.

SKELETON FOUND IN BUSHES.

Perry Disappeared After Receiving Legacy of $5,000.

Southington, Conn., July 30.—The skeleton of a man which had long lain hidden in the bushes on Wolcott mountain, was found today by berry pickers. It is believed to be the skeleton of Robert Perry, who lived at the foot of the mountain, and who disappeared four years ago after receiving a legacy of $5,000 from England. Later his wife disappeared, after telling a story to the effect that Perry had gone to England to claim more money. Mrs. Perry was married three times before she met Perry. When the first and second husbands died the medical examiner here was called in to view the bodies. He made no report on either case. The third husband got a divorce. Perry was an Englishman, whose family, it was understood, had considerable wealth.

RELATIVE TO A STORY PUBLISHED IN The Constitution yesterday on the arrest of Miss Annie Badger, of Butts county, in a store on Whitehall street Wednesday afternoon, in which it was stated that Miss Badger got Officer Cason down and sat on him on the floor of the patrol wagon on the way to the station house, Officer Cason states that the woman was under control nearly the whole way, and did not have him down. Captain James L. Mercer, who was on the wagon at the time and saw all that happened, sustains Officer Cason's statement.

FLAMES FOR MILLIONAIRES.

Firebugs After the Rich Residents of Long Island.

New York, July 30.—So many fires, clearly of incendiary origin, have occurred within the last two weeks up to and including today, in what are known as the "Millionaire Colonies" of Great Neck, Fort Washington and other towns in the north Hempstead district of Lond Island, that radical measures have been determined upon, and there is talk of the formation of a vigilance committee.

Among some of the estates affected are those of William K. Vanderbilt, Jr., Clarence Mackay, Bourke Cockran, Howard Gould and Mrs. Satterwhite.

No great alarm was felt by the owners of these and other fine places until the fires became of almost daily occurrence. A lookout for the incendiaries was kept, and when the Bay Side Yacht Club house was destroyed, one man was captured, convicted and sent to prison for a year. It is now believed there is an organized band bent on destruction, and the situation has become serious.

At least one fire has occurred in the district every day in the last fortnight, and on several occasions the volunteer companies have been called out to subdue as many as three within the space of a few hours.

REV. HERBERT YEUELL PREACHES IN WEST END

Another great audience greeted Mr. Yeuell in West End Tabernacle last night. People came early, and soon all seats were filled. The singing was unusually enthusiastic, and everybody seemed glad to see the evangelist and happy to have him back, after an absence of several days.

Mr. Bolleau sang "The Lost Chord," and Mr. Yeuell had that as his subject. The text was from Rev. ii: "Nevertheless, I have somewhat against thee because thou hast left thy first love." It was a magnificent sermon, with pathos, humor, and appeal all happily blended.

Starting with the thought that innocence once lost can never be regained, he showed that though guilty we can get back to God. "The trouble with that Ephesian church of which the text speaks was that they had lost their message. Any church or any individual that has lost love has lost the message. We need the enthusiasm of love to enforce our message and do our work with men."

Then he showed how some men had lost the first love of the wife and the enthusiasm of affection; some Christians have lost the first love of Jesus and enthusiasm in His service; some preachers and churches have left their first love and enthusiasm for the gospel. His description of this state was tender, but he followed with a strong appeal to return to the first love, and for churches and Christians to get back to love and enthusiasm of the early church, for Jesus Christ, the creed and life of the church.

Saturday night there will be an illustrated lecture upon "The Making of an American." There is no admission price, but a silver offering is taken at the door.

SALE OF PROVIDENT LIFE.

It Will Likely be Consummated in a Short While.

New York, July 30.—The recent reports that a sale of the Provident Savings Life Assurance Life Society's stock had been consummated was characterized tonight by the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell as premature. The statement says:

"The published reports of the completion of a sale of the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society's stock held by the banks are altogether premature. No sale has yet been consummated, although it is likely that the transaction will be completed within the next two weeks.

"In making the sale all parties involved fully realize the desirability of dealing only with purchasers of such standing that their control of the society will be entirely acceptable to the policyholders, as well as the insurance departments. Nothing material is being done without prior consultation with the superintendent of insurance of this state.

"The friction which formerly existed upon the board has been entirely eliminated. The sale, when it takes place, will confer upon the purchasers a large majority of the board of directors, and will fully concentrate complete control."

BALDWIN'S BIG GAS BAG.

Work of Inflating It Will Be Begun Today.

Washington, July 30.—The work of inflating the big gas bag of Captain Thomas S. Baldwin's airship will be begun tomorrow morning. The tent in which the balloon will be housed arrived at Fort Myer today, and will be pitched tomorrow. By Monday, barring accidents, Captain Baldwin will be ready to make his first flight.

There is an element of uncertainty as to what Captain Baldwin's aerial craft will do when it gets up in the air, many of its features being new in this country. The principal difficulty, if there will be any, will be in the control of the ship by means of the mechanical devices. In the past Captain Baldwin has operated his balloon by shifting the weight of his body.

HE SAVED GEN. SHERMAN.

Just Before Latter Began Devastating March Through Georgia.

Tacoma, Wash., July 30.—Stephen G. Grubb, a civil war veteran, whose action at a critical moment is said to have saved General William T. Sherman's entire store of ammunition just before his famous march from Atlanta to the sea, died here last night, aged 73 years. According to the story, just before the battle of Resaca lightning struck a telegraph pole standing in the midst of three million rounds of infantr yand 300,000 rounds of artillery ammunition, the entire supply of General Sherman's army. The lightning set fire to the pole, and Lieutenant Grubb, assisted by Private Dan R. Anderson, mounted the heap and extinguished the flames at the imminent risk of being blown up.

Robert Olen Douglass.

Robert Olen Douglass, of Kirkwood, Ga., died at a private sanitarium last night at 11:30 o'clock. The body was removed to the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son, and the funeral arrangements will be announced later. He is survived by his son, Peyton Douglass, and a daughter residing in Missouri.

MANY THRILLS AT HORSE SHOW

Woman Rider Thrown and Trampled---Men Riders Also Thrown.

Long Branch, N. J., July 30.—There were thrills a plenty at the horse show today. Miss Kate Heisman, of Paris, who was riding the Westchester farms' entry, Continental, in the class for ladies' hunters, was thrown and before attendants could rescue her, the horse trampled upon her.

Closely following this mishap, and in the same event, Edwin H. Weatherbee's bay gelding, Keswick, threw his rider at the water jump, and a second later George Watson's Lightfoot sent his rider to the ground. E. H. Weatherbee's David Grey threw his rider also. Mr. Weatherbee's Keswick was declared winner of the event despite the mishap at the water jump.

BOY FALLS INTO A HOLE AND FRACTURES HIS LEG

The Father of Jeff Hilsman Was Fatally Injured in Fall Last December.

Young Hilsman's father, A. P. Hilsman, who resided at 155 Mills street, while on duty as a night watchman at the Fulton mills last December at 4 o'clock in the morning fell into a tank of scalding water. He pulled himself out, staggered to a telephone and directed the police to come for him. He was removed to the Grady hospital where he died within a few hours.

CONFESSED 50 FORGERIES.

Sensational Evidence Was Given by Emmett Huggins.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 30.—Sensational evidence was given today in the case of the State v. John McGregor, county commissioner, who is charged with accepting a bribe in connection with the installation of new boilers in the county's power house.

Emmett S. Huggins, who declares he was in the deal with McGregor, and on whose testimony the latter was indicted, testified this afternoon in the Marion county criminal court that he had acted as the "go-between," and had paid McGregor $1,000 of a sum amounting to $8,800 he had received from the Atlas Engine Works, of Indianapolis, which company had been awarded the contract for the boilers. The contract price was $21,331.

Huggins also confessed to over fifty forgeries while acting as clerk of the county commissioner's court. He also admitted embezzling $5,000 from Marion county by false means. He testified to having entered the court at night and stealing various county records to cover up his misdeeds and to having them burned, in order to destroy any possible evidence against him.

Arthur W. Wilcutts, salesman for the Atlas Engine Works followed Huggins on the stand, and admitted the payment of $3,800 to Huggins to be used by the latter in paying "commissions to the county commissioners."

Court adjourned until tomorrow morning, with Wilcutts on the witness stand.

TRAP GUN KILLED ROBBER.

Body of Man Found Riddled in Ginseng Patch.

Middlesboro, Ky., July 30.—The body of Millard Collins, of Kellyview, Va., who disappeared from home ten days ago, was found by his wife several miles from there today.

The body was riddled with buckshot, and the coroner's jury, sitting at Pennington Gap, returned a verdict that death was due to mechanical discharge of a gun placed in a ginseng patch by the owner.

Mrs. Collins today received a letter from her husband's father, who lives in Tennessee, stating that Collins' brother, John, had reached Tennessee wounded in the side by a bullet from a shotgun. John stated, according to the letter, that he and his brother, Millard, were robbing the ginseng patch when a shotgun was discharged.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 30.—At the first business session here today of the Young People's Christian Union, Dr. James D. Rankin, of Denver, suggested as a solution of the negro problem that the blacke be segregated in one of the southern states. Clinton W. Howard, of Rochester, gave a talk on temperance.

"The largest practical contribution being made to the cause of temperance in the United States," he said, "is being made by the Roman Catholic church."

LUMBER TRUST BEING FOUGHT

Kansas Trying to Smash Yellow Pine Association.

Emporia, Kans., July 30.—In the district court of Lyon county here today, Attorney General Jackson, of the state of Kansas, filed ouster, quo warranto and injunction suits against the Yellow Pine Association of St. Louis. At the same hour, it is stated, the attorneys general of Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma filed similar suits in their respective states in a concerted effort to break up what is alleged to be an illegal combine to raise the price of lumber to a figure said to be unreasonable and fictitious. The proceedings here seek to drive the association from Kansas and to prevent the formation of a holding company to take over the property of the alleged combine, which latter movement, it was reported, was about to be consummated at St. Louis.

Attorney General Jackson recently had agents of the lumber company in Sherman county brought before the district court, and, in addition to receiving much information from them regarding the existence of an alleged trust, seized correspondence bearing upon the subject. He also secured the sworn testimony of a man until recently employed by one of the companies to the effect that the lumber concerns in that section were in a close combine, that all prices were fixed from headquarters, and that rebating was practiced by certain railroads by allowing for overcharges.

Hot Springs, Ark., July 30.—Mrs. J. Two hours after Mrs. Pettit had been bound and gagged her husband returned from work and released her. On being released she fell into a faint and is now in a dangerous condition from nervous excitement.

$22,202,393 MADE BY MORGAN

Enormous Profit in Reorganization of Northern Pacific.

MINNESOTA USING PROBE

State Is Bringing Out the Millions That Were Made in the Reorganization at a Hearing in Regard to Rates.

St. Paul, Minn., July 30.—That J. P. Morgan & Co. and others in the syndicate that reorganized the Northern Pacific railroad in 1896 made a profit of $22,202,393 was what the attorneys for the state attempted to establish at the Minnesota rate hearing. Attorneys for the railroad, however, contended that these figures represent the par value of the stock involved, and that the question of whether J. P. Morgan & Co. made a large fee in connection with the reorganization has nothing to do with what the Northern Pacific road is worth today. It is on the present worth that they expect to earn an adequate return.

H. A. Gray, controller of the Northern Pacific, testified that the reorganization was perfected by calling in the stock of the old company in the hands of the public, and issuing the new stock on the payment by the stockholders of an assessment of $10 a share on preferred stock and $15 on common. Not all the old stockholders were willing to pay these assessments, so the syndicate paid them and took over the stock.

Under one paragraph of the agreement the syndicate received $19,873,830 in cash for handling $405,215,705 of the company's common and preferred stock and mortgage bonds. Under another paragraph of the agreement the syndicate was paid 6 2-3 per cent in cash for the sale of another consignment of stocks and bonds. The amount received by the syndicate on this transaction was placed at nearly $3,000,000, bringing the total receipts of the syndicate managers, according to the testimony, up to $117,904,253, while they turned over to the reorganized company in the conversion and assessment on stock $95,701,860, leaving the syndicate's gain, figured at the par value of the stocks, $22,202,393

SERMON BY BRYAN TO HEARST PARTY

He Shows the Members Error of Their Way.

DEMOCRACY OFFERS RELIEF

And Member of Hearst Party Must Decide Whether He Will Aid in Defeating Democratic Party and in Electing Taft.

Fairview, Lincoln, Neb., July 30.—Although the heat was most oppressive at Fairview today, Mr. Bryan was early in his office and at work. After reading the platform adopted by the independence party in Chicago, he gave out the following statement:

"It contains a number of planks which are identical with, or substantially similar to the planks of the democratic platform. For instance, it demands the election of senators by the direct vote of the people, as the democratic platform does; its tariff plank is quite like our tariff plank; its plank on the trusts, while opposing private monopoly, is not as specific as ours; its railroad plank does not differ much from ours; its plank on Asiatic immigration is quite similar; and its labor plank, like ours, contains a declaration in favor of trial by jury and in regard to the exception of labor organizations from the operation of anti-trust laws. Like our platform, it condemns the extravagance of the republican party and demands greater economy. It does not advocate, however, the establishment of a department of labor with a secretary in the cabinet; it does not oppose imperialism which has been used to justify the increase in our standing army and its plank as to publicity of campaign contributions is not nearly so strong as ours.

Question for Hearst Followers.

"The question that must confront the member of the independence party is this: Will he assist in the defeat of the democratic party, which stands for so much that he favors, merely because he cannot get all that he would like? Either the democratic party or the republican party will win, and the voter who, preferring the democratic platform to the republican platform, joins with the independence party merely assists the republican party, and thus defeats several of the reforms in which he is interested. Take for instance the plank in favor of the election of senators by the people; the democratic party has indorsed that reform in three campaigns; the republican convention defeated the proposition by an overwhelming vote. If the democratic party succeeds, its members are pledged to this reform. The republican party is not pledged to it and the republican candidate has gone no farther than to say that he is personally inclined toward it. This reform is necessary before any other reform can be secured. Is not the independent voter justified in helping the democratic party to secure this reform?

The Labor Question.

"So in regard to the labor questions. The democratic party is in favor of remedies demanded by wage-earners and a wage-earner who votes with the independence party simply defeats the reforms in which he is interested. And the same argument might be made in regard to those who favor tariff reform, the extermination of the principle of private monopoly and the remedy of other evils which have grown up under republican administrations. The question is not whether one can get all the reform that he wants, but how he can get the most reforms. The democratic party offers him the best opportunity to secure that which is obtainable at this time."

In regard to the open letter of Victor Rosewater to Mr. Bryan, which appeared in this morning's papers, Mr. Bryan and his brother-in-law, Mr. Allen, who is mentioned in the letter, held a conference last evening and Mr. Bryan treated the matter very lightly.

CORTELYOU STILL HAS "BEE."

Alleged He Would Like to Be Governor of New York.

New York, July 30.—Gossip has been in circulation in this city for several days to the effect that George B. Cortelyou, secretary of the treasury, would allow the use of his name as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor against Governor Hughes. This gossip, however, apparently had no basis in any statements by Mr. Cortelyou or his friends.

It is said some of the leaders of the republican state organization approached Mr. Cortelyou before Governor Hughes announced his willingness to accept renomination, and that these leaders asked Mr. Cortelyou whether he would be willing to become a candidate in the event that further consideration indicated his probable nomination. It is not understood that the nomination was definitely offered to Mr. Cortelyou.

Mr. Cortelyou gave no explicit reply to these suggestions, but promised to consider the matter.

DISTILLERS ARE BEATEN.

They Must Label Output as Prescribed by Law.

Chicago, July 30.—The restraining order issued by Judges Thompson, Severns and Humphrey in the federal court at Cincinnati, preventing the government from enforcing that portion of the pure food law ordering distillers to label their product "alcohol" instead of "spirits," as was the practice, stands, according to a ruling by Judge Kohlsaat, in the United States circuit court today. Government attorneys made a motion before Judge Kohlsaat that the injunction against the government be set aside. The court ruled, with specific reference to distillrs of Peoria, in whose behalf today's motion was opposed, that the restraining order shall stand until passed upon by the court of appeals. To distillers a similar motion will be made at Goshen, Ind., to set aside the injunction as it applies to Terre Haute distillers.

Pelicans Fly Too High For the Local Players

Edited by Alex Lynn

CLAYTON SHOWS BASEBALL FORM

New Player's Work Was Bright Spot in "Lost" Game.

Old Man Breitenstein Was as Strong as in the Days of Noah, and His Teammates Smashed the Ball When Runners Reached Bases.

By HOWELL FOREMAN.

Again the Pelican brigade has come to our home town and beat the home guard. This time the final count was 3 to 2, in favor of Charley Frank's brigade. But, cheer up, boys, today we may take the game in an easy style. Who knows?

The day before yesterday a new recruit performed his first time in this league with great style. Yesterday it was another raw one, by the name of Clayton. The first three batters up knocked swift grounders to Clayton, probably thinking that he was a weak spot. But, no; he gobbled each one up as quickly as dog eats meat. He threw but one ball which was out of our long first baseman's reach. He got a double and a single out of three times at bat, and after that made three assists. Looks like a second Sid Smith.

Everything was going well until inning two rolled around. Then the Birds began their fight. Rohe placed a single over short's head; Dexter singled to left, and Nill sacrificed, advancing both runners. Dundon walked, and the sacks were teeming with runners, each on the watch-out for a chance to gallop in home. Stratton laid down a sacrifice, and Rohe pranced in with the initial run of the game. Breitenstein ended the inning with a fly-out to center.

In the fifth inning the Crackers got a move on, and went the Pelicans one better on the scoring game. Fox led off with a triple to right; Viebahn flew out to right. Wilkes had a hole in his bat, and knocked the stuffings out of the air three times. Bill Dyer then appeared on the scene of action, and cracked out a corking triple to center field, and Fox tied the score by crossing the platter. Becker then undid a little single into the garden on the right. Outfielder Moran then grounded to second, and Becker was tagged at that station.

After this inning the scenes were shifted, and New Orleans came in with a grand rally in the ninth. The eighth brought them the tieing run, however, Manning copied Fox, and led off with a corking three-bagger to center. Lord piked. McMurray then thought he saw a chance to catch Manning napping off third, and made a throw to third, which would have come near putting the runner out had not Billiam Dyer let the ball get by and the old Cracker performer scored.

The ninth began with two fly-outs by Nill and Dundon, and everybody settled down for a long game, but the Pelicans did not choose to stay out after sundown, as they had to go to roost; so Stratton knocked the ball over second for one sack. Old Breit, then hammered out a single to Moran's territory, which took Stratton to second. Joe Rickert, who had not gotten a hit during the battle, knocked a single to right, which scored the winning run.

More than once Nashville had the bases full, but could not bring the runners home. The visitors won, 5 to 2. Nashville changed pitchers in the eighth as a batting expedient. In the ninth Nashville had the bases full, with nobody out, and Memphis sent Savidge into the box. The side was retired after one run was made. Score:

OFFICE BOY DOPE.

The fans over in Nashville are contributing to a bonus fund for the Volunteer club, not to be given unless they nab the rag, or one-half the amount if they finish second in the race. You had better watch out how you are promising this money, Nashvillians, for you are apt to have to pay.

Now, let's see if Bill Smith can't get a few feathers from the Pelicans in this series, to adorn his straw lid with. They would look mighty nice, you know, for the last time this flock of birds lit upon the pennant pole at Ponce de Leon for a series, they hurt our feelings considerably.

Once Lajoie and Honus Wagner were rivals. But now Lajoie is worried with a manager's job and the famous Ty Cobb has stepped into the great second-bagger's shoes.

A Birmingham paper says that the Nashville pitchers, along with some others, are running in hard luck. If this is so and Nashville is putting up such a swell game, now what will they do when their pitchers do round up?

A good joke is told on Babb. It was rumored in Memphis that Garrity had jumped, says a paper in Slagville, and dispatches were sent to Birmingham to verify the statement. Babb was questioned.

The following statement was in the Slagville paper:

"Garrity jumped?" he shouted. "He was here just a moment ago. Wait until I investigate." Joe was found in his room.

"Joe," stated Babb, out of breath, "they say in Memphis that you have jumped."

"To —— they do," slowly replied the pitcher. "Tell them for me that I am still on deck."

Jordan, of the Brooklyn National League club, is becoming famous for his batting. He knocked two home runs in one game.

Bob Spade is tied for eighth place on the pitching list of the National League. His average is .462.

BARON GRATTAN A SURPRISE.

He Captured the 2:04 Pace at the Detroit Meeting.

Detroit, Mich., July 30.—More sensational racing marked the fourth day of the grand circuit harness meeting and the average time for fourteen heats—2:07—has seldom been equaled. The 2:04 pace turned out to be the biggest surprise of the year, that gallant campaigner, Baron Grattan, winning it in four heats. Blacklock was a hot favorite in the big field of eight, but was unsteady at first and refused to try later along. Citation raced in front of the first heat clear to the stretch, where John A. challenged and beat her handily. Baron Grattan came strong at the end but broke.

Next time the old Canamian champion, Gallagher, set the pace and held on to the end with enough left to beat Baron Grattan half a length. Gallagher led into the stretch in the third mile, but he could not stall off Baron Grattan, that one coming with a great burst of speed and winning by a neck. The fourth was a repetition, Baron Grattan again beating Gallagher in the last 20 yards and winning first money.

The 2:11 trotting race stake proved a hard-fought race, and lasted until dusk.

Owing to the lameness of High Ball, the match race with Sweet Marie did not take place.

Summary:

2:12 Pace—Purse $1,000, 3 in 5 heats: Leone won in five heats; Fred D., second; the Liar, third. Best time, 2:07¼.

2:11 Trot—Stake $3,000, 3 in 5 heats: DeWitt got first money; Carlakan, second; Octoo, third. Best time, 2:07¼.

2:04 Pace—Purse $1,500, 2 in 3 heats: Baron Grattan won in four heats; Gallagher, second; John A., third. Best time, 2:08¼.

DIAMOND DOPE.

Clayton performed in great style in the opening game. The first two times at bat he got two hits. The next time Old Breit walked him, to all appearances, intentionally.

Dyer made one beautiful stop of a grounder and hurled the pill home to McMurray, who tagged the runner and saved a score.

Dyer, Fox and Clayton were there with the willow.

Dundon made a great stop of Moran's hot ball in the fifth inning.

Yesterday's game resembled the game of the day before. The score was the same, and the game was exciting. Two new recruits probably made good in the two games.

Lou Castro had better watch out or he'll be back at the undertaking business.

After Dyer had made a good hit and a fine stop, he made an awful error.

While Castro was watching the game he passed the time away drinking a Coca-Cola which Asa Candler blew him off to. A. B. got set up, too.

BETTING FAVORS KETCHEL.

His Go With Kelly Will Draw a Great Crowd.

San Francisco, Cal., July 30.—Stanley Ketchel and Hugo Kelly, who will meet in a twenty-round boxing contest at the Coliseum here tomorrow night, have finished their period of training and are now in condition. The battle carries with with it the middleweight championship, Ketchel, the holder, having won it by his defeat of Papke in Milwaukee. The men will weigh in at 6 p. m. and must not exceed 158 pounds.

Jack Welch, who will referee the fight, visited the fighters yesterday and officially instructed them in regard to the fighting rules.

Interest in the contest is keen and there was a tremendous rush to purchase seats when the tickets were placed on sale yesterday.

Betting favor Ketchel at 2 to 1, and these figures will probably be the same when the men enter the ring. Ketchel, through his manager, is reported to have placed a heavy wager on himself.

Lithonia Was Victorious.

Lithonia, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Lithonia and Stone Mountain teams crossed bats on the Lithonia diamond Wednesday afternoon. Lithonia won in a shut-out game by the score of 7 to 0. The feature of the game was the pitching and fielding of Watson, of Lithonia. The winning of this game by Lithonia makes it two out of three from Stone Mountain. Batteries—Stone Mountain, Goldsmith and Parker; Lithonia, Watson and Evans. Hits—Off Goldsmith4, off Watson 4.

Gun Tournament at Rome.

Rome, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Friday next the Rome Gun Club will entertain the Talladega Gun Club. A splendid program has been arranged. In the morning there will be an open tournament, with added money, and the struggle will be to see who makes the best individual score. There will be a barbecue dinner at the grounds, and in the afternoon a squad shoot between teams from Rome and Talladega.

BOOKIES TELL OF HARD LUCK

But If They Don't Get the Coin It's Hard to Explain Where It Goes.

(From The New York Evening World.)

The thing is, where is it? Somebody must have the money. I wish somebody'd lend me a cigarette and a match and a box to strike it on and $10 or $12. It fills me full of strange longings to talk about all these busted people. They're all making a noise like a pint of moth balls. All hands are down and in. You must think they're there with the yellow confetti to hear them. Presently—ye-eh—you'll be se-eing all of the chalkers packing fore-and-aft printed sandwiches and 27-pound wooden watches in Bee-Way.

Everybody is the Pat—if you're listening. Every moocher you meet up with is there with a map as long as an ironingboard. They've all got a spin about finding henhouse padlocks on their room doors when they got to their lodgings last night and the landlady waiting for 'em in the basement areaway with a potato masher and a tureen full of hot stewed tomatoes to toss at 'em for not coming across with the rent thing.

They've all got it—if you're listening again—where Minnehaha wore the moose teeth.

I know a gleam who last season had a gas rig the size of a Nebraska threshing machine, and his chauffeur tooled him down to the track and back every day. Now he's the chauffeur, and the man that he shofes for, the owner of the chugger, is a Harlem waiter that started making book on Murderer's Row, back of the dead line, at the Jamaica meeting last fall. The hasher now has a private secretary and a chiropodist. The man who used to own the buzz chaise gets sixty a month and cakes, and his end of the gay life now is making dime and two-bit bets with the hackmen anchored outside the track gates. But the hasher says that he's $35,000 to the bad on this season, just like that!

Who's got it all? All the regulars and chalkers look as lonesome when coin is mentioned as ticket-o'-leave men on their first day out. Davy Johnson, you'll be hearing, if you're a good hearer, is hunting for a summer job as a substitute white wings.

George Wheelock is begging Hammerstein for a callboy's job on the roof.

Abe de Brave has had so many citrons handed him that he's going to ship in the navy as an apprentice.

Joe Yeager is trying to nag a job on the Flushing police force.

Jesse Lewissohn is going to run an owl pancake wagon on Park row.

Somebody must have something. Where is it?

Sol Lichtenstein, they'll spin you, is going to sell ice by the hatful on Delancey street for eight per cent of the gross.

Dan Donnelly has applied for a job as night watchman at the Long Island City gashouse.

Bill Cowan is going blackberrying in the Orange mountains for a bare livelihood.

Eddie Burke is begging John Considine for a dishwasher's job at the Glassorium.

Orlando Jones' hemp is now growing to the bottom button of his vest because everything he had in the world was frisked off him by the players in the spring—uh-huh—and his barber won't put the shaves on ice any more.

Biny Snow weeps that he hasn't had lunch for three weeks.

The other afternoon I stood and watched one of these cleaned layers order eight magnums of the laughing russet water for a little party grouped around him. I suppose Mr. McGrath donated that Gallic juice to him, ye-eh.

Last Sunday afternoon I saw George Wheelock tooling on the drive in a honk van the size of a Merritt wrecking tug—and George, they hand you, is one of the smothered ones. Maybe he was taking that car to the garage to sell to somebody for the price of a 40-cent table d'hote feed with cochineal wine.

Joe Vendig, you read in the society news, is going to put in next winter in a houseboat up near the Blue Cataract of the Nile. Joe being one of the frisked ones, to hear it, I guess he's going to make that Nile trip for the Bible society, drawing down just bare expenses.

Georgs Rose, it is announced somewhere in the society column, is motoring in the Riviera. I guess he'll make his way along the Riviera peddling patent lamp chimneys from door to door.

Eddie Burke is going on a cruise to the North Cape in a white yacht, 367 feet over all, with Roman striped awnings and maybe Eddie'll heave coal on this boat that he's chartered.

Nobody's got even pepsin change. Where is it? What did they have all of that canvas stretched on top of the track fences for if the spinnakers and jibe'ls and royal stuns'ls couldn't keep the wind from blowing all of the silk-threaded papers out of the grounds? If everybody's frisked, what are we getting out of bed at all for?

FREIGHT KILLS W. LEE GREEN

Young Man Did Not Hear Approach of Switch Engine.

While sitting on track No. 9, of the Southern railway, yesterday afternoon about 1:40 o'clock, near the company's Madison avenue freight transfer, W. Lee Green, 25 years of age, and a resident of Marietta, was run over by a freight car driven by Southern switch engine No. 1673 and almost instantly killed. He was rushed to the Atlanta hospital, but died in the ambulance on the way.

W. LEE GREEN,
Who Was Run Over and Killed by Freight Train.

Green is said to have been sitting on the track with a friend when the switch engine came rolling slowly and almost noiselessly toward him in order to connect with a loose car which gave shelter to the two men from the burning rays of the sun.

The impact of the engine forced the car over Green before he or his companion knew of its presence. The wheels passed over both of Green's arms and over his legs above the knee. Death resulted in a very few minutes, and the body was removed to the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson & Son. It will be taken to Marietta, Ga., this morning for funeral and interment.

Green had been in the employ of the Southern railway some time, and was an airbrake helper. He was unmarried, and is survived by his father, D. S. Green, and two brothers, Charles and Bud Stringer.

How far will you walk to save $1.05? You can save this amount on your next pair of shoes by walking up to 93 Peachtree street to the fire sale. J. T. Gresham.

WIRELESS NEWS OF FLEET.

The Battleship Georgia Was Heard From Tuesday Night.

Suva, Fiji Island, July 30.—The Glacier, storeship of the United States Atlantic fleet, arrived here today. She reports having been in communication by wireless with the battleship Georgia Tuesday, at a distance of 1,200 miles, and hopes tonight to effect a chain of communication with the fleet through the tender Yankton, which is in the Tonga Islands, and the repair ship Panther, which is at Pago-Hago, Samoan Islands.

THEY OPPOSE LEASE SYSTEM

Resolutions Were Adopted by the Farmers' Union of Georgia.

Brown House, Macon, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The last work of the session of the Georgia Farmers' Union was completed at noon today with two very important resolutions, one upon the immigration question, and another upon the present method of handling the state prisoners. A very large number of the members remained to the last moment, and the work of the session is reported to have been more thorough and more effective than that of any former annual meeting. A great deal of the work that was done was held as secret, owing to its character.

The resolutions passed touching the convict question were as follows:

"Resolved, By the Georgia Division of the Farmers' Union, in annual convention assembled—

"1. That we heartily favor the speedy and if possible the immediate abolishment of the convict lease system.

"Said system is utterly wrong in principle, the state having no right to delegate its sovereign power to punish criminals to private citizens. Said system is altogether cruel, for the lessees in their efforts to get the biggest possible profits, work such convicts under terrible conditions, which are revolting to every dictate of humanity and justice.

"That we favor legislation which shall put all the able-bodied convicts, felony and misdemeanor, at work upon the public roads of the state, under such divisions and conditions as will be fair and equitable to all sections and all counties of the state; and the establishment of central farms upon which a sufficient number of the convicts may be employed only for the purpose of raising such agricultural products as may be necessary for the feeding of all the convicts of the state and not for the purpose of selling farm products for profit in the open market.

"That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the press for publication, and we hope that the general assembly of Georgia, now in session, will wipe away the stain so long resting upon the fair fame of our beloved state, exterminating this blighting evil forever, and to that end we favor a constitutional amendment forever prohibiting the leasing of convicts."

Opposed to Immigration.

Many of the members of the union expressed themselves ahead of time regarding the immigration matter, but when it came to indorsing resolutions it was clearly shown that there was little favor for any sort of movement towards bringing foreign labor to the state. The resolutions which went on record touching this topic were as follows:

"Whereas, foreign immigration is proposed for the agricultural sections of the south, and

"Whereas, the federal government is especially investigating the attitude of southern farmers toward the distribution and diversion of the present alien influx to the south, and

"Whereas, the farmers of Georgia are unalterably opposed, and in favor of the substantial exclusion of the classes now pouring into this country. Therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union of the state of Georgia, in annual convention assembled, representing over 100,000 farmers, do hereby this July 29 and 30, 1908, at Macon, Ga., express our opposition to foreign immigration, and urge our state and national officials to use their utmost influence in every possible way to secure the substantial exclusion of the present foreign influx, and to prevent Georgia and the south being made a dumping ground for foreign immigration, and be is further

"Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the immigration commission at Washington, D. C., our senators and congressmen, and to our general assembly, and that local presidents and lecturers emphasize this question."

Mansfield, Ohio, July 30.—Laban Pollock died today from the effects of being stung by bumblebees. He was about 71 years of age.

SPEER BLOCKS RATE ADVANCE

Temporary Injunction Is to Be Continued in Force.

JUDGE RESERVES DECISION

It May Be Days Before He Renders It, and Until Then the Temporary Order Blocks the Proposed Increase in Freight Rates.

Mount Airy, Ga., July 30.—No decision in the rate cases was rendered today, and possibly one will not be made for days to come. Following the argument of Attorney Wimbish today, who was the last speaker, Judge Speer announced that he would take the case under advisement and render his decision at a later date.

According to the program of the railroads the increased rates on food products and other commodities are scheduled to become effective on August 1. Until Judge Speer makes known his decision the temporary restraining order will remain in force.

No Complaint at Washington.

Washington, July 30.—No complaint had been filed with the interstate commerce commission up to today against the proposed increase by railroads of the Southeastern Freight Association on freight rates on staple products from western to southeastern points in which case Judge Speer, of the southern district of Georgia, has sustained an injunction against the proposed increase until proper application to the commission shall be made and the question determined as to whether or not the increase is reasonable. When the complaint in the case is received at the offices of the commission it will be taken up in order as are other complaints unless some special reason is successfully urged for advancing it. It is likely that at least a month will be required to secure a decision by the commission.

80 PER CENT VOTE TO STRIKE.

Trouble Is Faced by the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western.

Scranton, Pa., July 30.—Grand Master Hawley, of the Switchmen's Union, announced to day that 80 per cent of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western railroad's men have voted for a strike, and that the grievance committee is now awaiting a reply from President Truesdale to a letter sent last night requesting a conference with a view of effecting a settlement before the committee takes up the question of ordering the men out. Speaking of the controversy over the discharge of certain switchmen, Grand Master Hawley, in a statement given out tonight, says that "prejudice seems to have been the prevailing faculty which prompted the subordinate officials in their actions, and the statement is framed in such a way as to mislead the general superintendent, and as a result he has sustained the subordinate officials."

SKATING CARNIVAL AT AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

The much-talked-of "Made-in-Atlanta" skating carnival will be held at the St. Nicholas Auditorium tonight and judging from the large number of costumes that have been prepared, the contest for prizes should be a close and interesting one.

Valuable prizes will be given for the most artistic and appropriate costumes worn by both lady and gentlemen skaters.

Fire at Cairo.

Cairo, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The livery business of Clarke & Lacey was totally destroyed by fire here Tuesday night at a late hour. The building was burned nearly down when the fire was discovered. Three horses were cremated, and several buggies were totally lost. There was no insurance on the stock. The building was owned by T. S. Copeland and was not insured. His loss will probably be in the neighborhood of $1,000.

The Swine and the Flower

Oh me! I saw a huge and loathsome sty,
Wherein a drove of wallowing swine were barred,
Whose banquet shocked the nostril and the eye;
Then spoke a voice, "Behold the source of LARD!"

I fled, and saw a field that seemed at first
One glistening mass of roses pure and white,
With dewy buds 'mid dark green foliage nursed;
And as I lingered o'er the lovely sight,
The summer breeze that cooled that Southern scene,
Whispered, "Behold the source of COTTOLENE!"

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

COTTOLENE is a pure and wholesome frying and shortening medium, made from refined cottonseed oil. There is not an ounce of hog fat in it to make food unwholesome, greasy and indigestible. As evidence of its superiority, COTTOLENE received Grand Prize (highest possible award) at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition; and Gold Medals (also representing highest awards in each case) at the Charleston Exposition, the Paris Exposition, and the Chicago World's Fair. In fact, in every case wherever COTTOLENE has been exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has invariably been granted the highest award.

PEACE REIGNS AT PENSACOLA

Two Killed and Nine Wounded in Lynching Ravisher.

NEGRO'S VICTIM WILL DIE

It Is Said Mrs. Davis Cannot Recover—Citizens Deplore the Fearful Cost at Which the Negro Was Lynched.

Pensacola, Fla., July 30.—This city has quieted down somewhat from the strenuous hours of last night. The fearful cost at which the negro, Leander Shaw, was secured and made to answer the penalty of an outraged people, is greatly deplored, and citizens are a unit in expressing sorrow over the result of the storming of the county jail.

Mrs. William Davis, whose throat was cut by the negro and for which crime he died, is yet alive, but it is said cannot recover. The babe who was struck by the negro at the time he tried to kill the mother, it is said, will recover.

The coroners investigating the riot, found that Leader Shaw came to his death at the hands of men unknown to them.

Two men killed and nine wounded, some of them fatally, was the result of the attack on the jail.

Shaw yesterday assaulted Mrs. William Davis, a highly respected lady, near this city, during the absence of her husband, and after cutting her throat almost from ear to ear, clubbed her over the head with a revolver which he had taken from the house.

Mob Forms to Lynch.

During the afternoon when it became known that the negro had been arrested, crowds began forming upon the streets and early in the night they were reinforced by large numbers of men from the country. The mob formed about 8 o'clock last night and made an attack on the county jail, where the negro was confined. The jail gate was broken down by the mob and the sheriff and his deputies opened fire.

Three men dropped from the first volley of the sheriff's fire. Volley after volley was then fired by the mob and the sheriff's force, but the mob was not repulsed.

About midnight another attack was made, the mob having increased to 1,000 determined men. The second attack was successful for the reason it was made upon all sides of the jail. One party forced its way through the rear, overpowered the officers and secured the trembling negro.

A noose was slipped about his neck and after being dragged for two blocks he was strung up to an electric light pole in the center of the park, where fully 2,000 bullets completely riddled his body.

The Dead.

Probably a dozen or more others were slightly wounded. The body of Shaw was cut down this morning by orders of the authorities.

PEACE MOVEMENT GROWS.

Delegates to Universal Peace Congress Are Cheered.

London, July 30.—"Many signs of the increasing importance of the peace movement have developed during the progress of the universal peace congress," said Benjamin F. Trueblood, of Boston, president of the American Peace Society, and head of the American delegation now here, in an interview.

"First, we have seen the number of delegates grow until every civilized nation of the world now is represented at the congress, and by men of standing in their own countries. The meetings of the congress have been exceedingly well attended and the greatest interest has been displayed in the discussion, the most important of which was that of today, on the subject of the arrest of armaments.

"Make it clear," said Mr. Trueblood, "that we are not urging immedate disarmament, but a scheme by which the increased expenditures for armaments can be stopped."

TIRED FEELING FOR TAFT.

Candidate Somewhat Wearied by Rapid Evolutions.

Hot Springs, Va., July 30.—Candidate William H. Taft admitted this afternoon that he felt somewhat tired from the rapid evolutions he has been going through during the past eight days. He reached the Homestead hotel shortly before 11 o'clock today from Cincinnati, accompanied by Mrs. Taft and General and Mrs. Corbin.

After passing on an accumulation of correspondence he went over to the 4-mile golf course with Senator Bourne, of Oregon, as an opponent. Upon returning to the hotel Judge Taft casually remarked that he believed the change from the heat of Cincinnati to the comparative cool of the mountains, produced a feeling of tiredness.

MEXICANS ARE SUSPICIOUS

Although the United States Is Doing Everything to Guard Border.

Washington, July 30.—Inability to extradite offenders for so-called political offenses, but which, in the opinion of the administration, are really crimes that should be extraditable, is proving a source of great irritation in the effort which the government of the United States is making to break up revolutionary activity along the Mexican-Texas boundary. This, coupled with the difficulty in detecting and proving violations of the neutrality laws, makes it difficult to convince the Mexicans of the sincerity of the government of the United States in its expressed determination to punish the guilty, and this notwithstanding every possible bit of machinery at the disposal of the government is working to a common end.

HOBSON STOLE ANOTHER'S WIFE

And He Is Arrested on Charge of Embezzlement.

COUSIN OF CONGRESSMAN

Both Hobson and Woman Admit Eloping, but Say the Charge of Embezzlement Was Trumped Up for Revenge.

New York, July 30.—A man who gave the name of Edward M. Hobson, of 2414 G street, N. E., Washington, was arraigned in the Tombs police court today on a charge of embezzlement, contained in a telegram from the chief of police of Washington. The accused told the magistrate that he was the Washington agent of the New York Horse Insurance Company and he was held in $500 bail to await the action of the Washington police.

To the newspaper men, Hobson said he was a married man and had run away from Washington with a married woman and that the charge of embezzlement was a subterfuge to get him back to Washington.

A young woman who was found at an address in this city given by Hobson said her name was Mrs. Nellie Kyley, of 943 New York avenue, Washington, and that her husband is Raymond Kyley, an engraver, employed by the government. She said she had been separated from her husband for four months. She declared that the embezzlement charge against Hobson was ridiculous.

Hobson claims to be a cousin of Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson, of Alabama.

MISS RUTH CREIGHTON ILL AT THE PIEDMONT

Miss Ruth Creighton, the vivacious little ingenue of the Baldwin-Melville Company at the Casino at Ponce de Leon, is very ill at the Piedmont, not having been in the bill this week since Tuesday. She will be unable to be in the cast next week.

The many friends and admirers of her work will be glad to hear of a speedy recovery and return to the cast, as her work has been very pleasing.

When you buy clothes look for the label

Copyright 1908 by Hart Schaffner & Marx

It's mighty risky business to buy clothes carelessly when the market is flooded with cheap "sweat-shop" products and near-tailored fakes.

Go to a reputable store to do your trading; there are several in Atlanta; this is one of them.

And ask to see the name of the makers on the label. We'll show you the names of Rogers, Peet & Co. and Hart, Schaffner & Marx---guarantees of all that's good in clothes.

At our regular prices these clothes were great values; now reduced 25 per cent.

Really, a national campaign seems dull without Tillman.

Little Boni is not so bad off after all. He lost Anna, but got alimony.

Arkansas is still on the map, but mighty "still," since the silence of Jeff Davis.

The band wagons are crowded, but there is plenty of room for campaign contributions.

A western editor's idea of wealth is one's ability to contribute to a national campaign fund.

Why do they call him "Little Loeb," when he looms so large in the shadow of the president?

Rockefeller's practice on the golf links has made him nimble enough to dodge even the big stick.

A trip through the west will convince any one that there is not much wood left for the candidates to saw.

Newport was shocked at the sheath skirt, and yet we thought it would take an earthquake to shock Newport.

Some of Editor Watterson's political utterances are so long they threaten to run over into the Sunday supplements.

Perhaps the weakness Bryan has found in the republican platform was caused by the strain of so many tons of Taft.

An exchange says Major Hemphill, of The News and Courier, has shaken hands with Taft. But then—he shook Bryan first.

Mr. Rockefeller has a fine chance to put down the price of oil, but when it jumps out of his reach, what can the poor man do?

The lines of the Maryland poets now melt like honey in the mouth. They are singing the praises of the juicy Georgia watermelon.

Certain Kentucky towns will place a Bible in every hotel room. In the night-riding region they will then have Bibles to burn.

Pouring "hot shot" into the Taft campaign is all right, politically, but from the mouth of a shotgun it's too hot to be comfortable.

Governor Hughes, of New York, declined to be a candidate for governor again until he discovered that the other fellow wanted it.

Many suicides in Philadelphia. There the drowsy brethren are dazed and irresponsible when they suddenly wake up to the situation.

It is announced that "the president is pleased with the political situation," and yet the country is still ungrateful enough to growl!

A Texas man will present Taft with a chair made of cow horns, provided he takes the bull by the horns and is tossed into the white house.

The Ten Commandments have made their appearance in the national campaign; but politics is quick to make the acquaintance of strangers.

As soon as he made that warlike speech for more battleships, the president, to show his consistency, accepted the presidency of a peace league.

If Muldoon made Root strong enough to "grub" stumps, he might root a few of them from under some of the loud-mouthed orators of the campaign.

STORY OF A BOY, TWO CANS OF POTTED HAM, A PIG—AND THE SHAME OF THE STATE!

Abolition of the convict lease system, now justly and inexorably decreed, dwindles into comparative insignificance beside the fundamental and radical reform, deep-penetrating to its smallest roots, for which Georgia's whole system of penology now cries aloud!

It must go back and deal with the man and the boy as he stands at the bar of the court.

For exposure of atrocious conditions has pointed accusing finger not alone at the convict system, BUT AS WELL AT THE SYSTEM BY WHICH CONVICTS ARE MADE.

The courts have not escaped indictment. Cases have come to light in which, if the courts were right, the LAW IS WRONG.

There are cases in which discretion might have saved human life, or made MEN of what are now confirmed criminals.

A single instance developed in this continued tale of barbaric brutality lays bare the whole faulty structure to its very foundations.

One such is enough to set in play the fountain springs of an enlightened humanity to sweep away in mighty deluge the system which made it and, perhaps, many others like it, possible.

A 16-year-old boy—a white boy—stands at the judgment bar of the court, charged with stealing TWO CANS of POTTED HAM! He is guilty; yes. What 16-year-old boy has not at some time "swiped" an apple or a watermelon or even a can or two of potted ham? Can the court itself, any court, judge or jury, go back to those tender years and plead whole innocence of petty or mischievous pilfering?

For stealing the potted ham, the youthful offender merited, perhaps, a sound paternal thrashing.

Yet, what did he get?

A term at hard labor in the Georgia penitentiary, confined with hardened criminals, black and white, to pay, in chains, the penalty of his "crime."

A possible career of worth and respectability scorched and blighted upon its very threshold!

THAT BOY WAS NOT GIVEN A CHANCE!

A piece of wood in the hands of the expert carver assumes shape and form of beauty and of use; slash it with an ax and it is fit alone for fire kindling.

We need to supplant the ax-man with the expert carver!

But that is but the beginning of the story!

Sent to spend a period of his youthful and formative period of life among desperate and hardened criminals, some of them made so, perhaps, by the very system which put and kept him there, what chance had he?

Seated one morning upon a log eating his convict's breakfast, he chanced to spill some hot coffee upon the back of a passing pig, the property of the camp warden. Angered by this inoffensive accident, or maybe piece of mischief, the warden, an official of the state, applied the lash to the tender flesh of that boy who should have been in a reformatory or at school, until he had to be carried to the hospital—or what at convict camps is called a hospital—from which his lacerated body was borne in a coffin to the potter's field.

Criminally killed—and by the state!

Possibly a fate decreed by Providence to take him from the criminal mill, whence he would have come the completed and degenerate product!

We may denounce and condemn and excoriate the abandoned brutality that crushed out the life of this 16-year-old boy because he spilled some coffee on a pig, but—

What of the system that made possible this inhuman crime?

What of the system that applies the ax and chucks the chips into the flame that makes the criminal cauldron seethe and boil?

In the name of enlightened humanity, is it not time to convert word and thought into deed and action?

Enlightened humanity stands indicted before the nation, at least of indifference and neglect which have been appalling in their consequences.

IT WILL NOT DO MERELY TO END THE ABHORRENT LEASE SYSTEM AND SAY THE WORK IS DONE!

THE REAL WORK IS THEN JUST BEGUN!

WE MUST TEAR AWAY CLEAR DOWN TO BEDROCK AND BUILD ANEW!

The state must make it possible for other boys to have a chance at life, for as horrible as is the fate that came to the boy who spilled the coffee on the warden's pig, ITS ATROCITY CANNOT DESCEND BELOW THE DEPTHS OF THE SYSTEM WHICH SENT HIM THERE TO MEET IT OR TO EMERGE A HARDENED CRIMINAL, INDIFFERENT ALIKE TO HONOR OR TO A HUMAN LIFE!

The plea of miserly economy was long ago overruled in the court of humanity!

To make it now is to indict the taxpayers of a great and wealthy state and to pillory them in shame before a nation's eye.

No higher, louder call; no more pitiful or worthy plea has ever reached the ear of a Georgia legislature than is voiced in the brief but piercing story of 16-year-old Win—just plain Win, for even his full name is not offered before the investigating committee.

But that boy was somebody's son!

And he had a soul, like you!

And his God was yours!

And if the gentle hand of Humanity had touched his heartstrings and told him to look up!—told him that THE WHOLE STATE WOULD BACK HIM if he made an honest effort to be a MAN—that boy would no doubt be living today, a good citizen, instead of filling a felon's grave, to the shame of the state!

IS GEORGIA TOO POOR—OR TOO MISERLY—TO APPLY THE MORAL OF THIS LESSON?

DUCKWORTH AGAIN PRESIDENT.

The Georgia Farmers' Union has wisely and well again conferred upon President R. F. Duckworth the position at the head of the state organization which, for the past two years, he has so ably and faithfully administered.

In the reelection of President Duckworth and the corps of able state officials who have served with him the past year, the Farmers' Union of Georgia has paid a deserved tribute to energy, integrity and worth.

The Georgia Farmers' Union has prospered and grown, in fact, reports made at the annual convention just held at Macon indicate that it has practically doubled its membership within twelve months.

In getting at the causes of this growth in numbers, force and power one must look to leaders, for only good generalship can build up. President Duckworth and his faithful and hardworking lieutenants have conducted a campaign that had success written on its banners, and they fought until they got it.

But they have other things to fight for than strength and numbers. Many obstacles have been met and conquered, but there are others still in the pathway of the development and progress of this great membership which must be removed.

Proven in the fight, tried by the fire, President Duckworth has met all the requirements of a successful leader.

He has been well and worthily entrusted with the continued leadership of the Farmers' Union in Georgia.

A LITTLE POLITICAL HISTORY.

Two years and more ago, in a state campaign whose results are a matter of record, the issue was squarely presented as to whether the line of demarcation between democrats and populists and republicans should stand, or the democratic primary should be thrown open to all the white voters in the state, regardless of their party affiliations.

The then existing executive committee insisted that the dividing line should be preserved.

Every form of political billingsgate known to modern tongue was then hurled from the opposing camp upon those executive committeemen, candidates and their friends, who dared assert that, in accordance with past custom, the party doors should be closed against Mr. Watson and his followers, unless they expressed their willingness and intention to come in as organized democrats.

Those opponents of party regularity won and carried with them the dictum of "white" primary. The gates were thrown wide open. It was no longer necessary to be a democrat, but only a white voter, of whatever party, to participate in the state primary, which once was known as democratic.

Of course, they did not know then they were building to their own undoing, and naturally there was a rumpus when they found the shoe was on the other foot.

When they learned that Mr. Watson and his friends could not be bound hand and foot and chained to the perpetuation of their political schemes, it was, "Katy, bar the door;" the state primary should be closed to populists who would not pledge themselves to vote against their leader, Mr. Watson, in his national campaign!

But they had set the precedent, and their own reversal of it wouldn't work. They were not to be forced out by the same crowd that pulled them in, simply because it could not further use them.

And then the state convention which met here in June, regardless of party custom, bowed to the will of the people as expressed in two successive primaries, and opened the party doors to all white voters, regardless of party affiliations, who would agree to abide the primary results.

It ill becomes those who made the precedent, even though they lost by it, to fling taunts of political heresy or to charge the breaking of party lines.

Tersely, Editor Pendleton has recorded some striking politico-historical truths upon this subject, which The Constitution reproduces today from The Macon Telegraph.

It is well enough to recall and repeat these developments here in passing, just to keep the record straight.

NATIONAL CHAIRMAN NORMAN E. MACK.

The selection of Norman E. Mack, of New York, as chairman of the democratic national committee, has made a distinct hit, and is being generally approved.

The choice is a worthy recognition of his invaluable service to the party, as well as a tribute to the man who is this year again the party's nominee. Mr. Mack has been one of Mr. Bryan's strongest, most unfaltering and most aggressive supporters. He has been a delegate to every democratic national convention since 1892, and for twelve years has fought for the success of Mr. Bryan, in national conventions and out.

A significant incident in connection with the elevation of Mr. Mack is that his selection by the subcommittee of the democratic national committee was approved by all the democratic leaders of New York state. Mr. Mack vigorously fought William J. Conners, the state chairman, and succeeded in securing the selection of Bryan delegates in Erie county, over his opposition, but when it became apparent that Mr. Mack was Mr. Bryan's choice, communication was had with Mr. Conners and Charles F. Murphy, of Tammany, and both leaders acquiesced in his selection. More remarkable still, P. H. McCarren, the deposed Brooklyn leader, also agreed with Messrs. Conners and Murphy as to the wisdom of the choice. Mr. Mack will thus manage the campaign, confident of the harmonious cooperation of the democratic leaders in New York state.

In addition to his valiant and persevering work in the party ranks, Mr. Mack was selected because he is a splendid representative of the highest type of business man. He is editor and owner of The Buffalo Times, and since 1900 he has been the member of the national committee from the Empire State. He was a member of the subcommittee in charge of the arrangements for the Denver convention, and is a member of the subcommittee of the national committee appointed to arrange the details of the campaign organization.

Mr. Mack was born in Canada and came to the United States when a youth. Without money or friends, he established The Buffalo Times, conducting it first as a weekly and afterwards as a daily afternoon paper. Today he is one of the first citizens of Buffalo and one of the wealthiest men in western New York.

It seems assured that Mr. Mack's selection will make for harmony in New York and probably have great influence in determining the result in that pivotal state this fall.

No better selection could have been made.

FROM THE MAN WHO WROTE THE DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM

(C. B. Pendleton, Editor Macon Telegraph.)

We divert attention to an article in this issue, taken from The Atlanta Constitution of yesterday, on "The Anti-Lease Plank in the Atlanta Platform."

We have reason to believe that the story there told is substantially correct.

It was Joe Brown's plank more than any one man's. It was his purpose, and in this he had the backing of his political friends, to use all the power of the executive to bring an end to the lease system.

It was the first platform declaration to that effect made in Georgia, and the state was ripe for it. That he will succeed there never was the slightest doubt, unless the present legislature, responding to public sentiment, does the work in advance of his accession to office.

SOME HISTORIC FACTS WORTH READING NOW

(From The Macon Telegraph.)

Barring, perhaps, The Augusta Chronicle, which is attaching too much importance to the Saffold-Watson incident at the meeting of the executive committee, those newspapers that are so shocked at the Watson proposal of a populist coalition with democrats against Taft in Georgia were spooned up good and snug under the "kiver" with Watson two years ago; and they are "mad" because Watson turned over with a snort and kicked them out of the bed. The sudden separation was no fault of theirs. With open arms and loving embrace they welcomed him two years ago into the democratic primary, over the earnest protest of The Telegraph and many others. They declared that he was the best kind of a democrat. They made long, loud and repeated preachments about "the people's party," being the thing of things, and the word democrat was dropped from their political vocabulary, Watson was extolled and his political virtues magnified. He was good enough then for them. Although the democratic executive committee which came over from the convention of four years ago was opposed to it, and had printed on the ballot two years ago a democratic yardstick, those who were profiting then by Watson's support defied the committee and told anti-democrats to disregard it, which they did. Populists and republicans voted without protest from the Hoke Smith managers all over Georgia. The lines were ruthlessly broken down, and they won.

Two years later (the year of our Lord 1908) the scene changed. The conditions changed. The leopard painted out his spots to fit the case. And this, let us repeat, is the case: Watson deserted his allies of 1906, and supported Brown for governor. Under the circumstances, and following a precedent which had been previously and unwillingly forced on the larger part of the Brown following, it was the most natural thing in the world for them to accept Watson's aid. The faction which had accepted his aid two years before and which profited by it, seeing that Watson had turned against them, attempted to rule him out this year, but failed. Again anti-democrats voted in the state primary.

This was the condition which the democratic state convention of 1908 met. It was suggested that the matter might as well be settled for good and all. As much as many of us regretted it, there was the record. In 1906 Watson was an active figure in the democratic primary over the protests of a large faction of the party—the other faction warmly greeting him. In 1908 the positions of the two factions were exactly reversed. So that, within two years Watson was the toast, first of the larger faction of the party, and then of the other faction, which became in turn the larger. Under these conditions a plank was adopted without dissent allowing all registered white voters of the state to vote in state democratic primaries who would pledge themselves to support the nominee of that primary. Thus official sanction was given to the policy approved by both factions within a brief time of less than two years immediately preceding.

All these things having been done, right or wrong, Watson felt that he was getting on pretty intimate terms with the state democracy. His friends were justified in feeling that they would not be "impudent," as the Atlanta Journal said they were, in suggesting the formation of a hard and fast alliance against Taft in this state. The Telegraph opposed the alliance as soon as it was stated that such a suggestion had been made, because we did not deem it wise or necessary; but The Telegraph saw no necessity for kicking Judge Saffold for making the suggestion, or Mr. Watson for desiring it—particularly after all that had happened.

The Telegraph was the first paper in Georgia to discuss the proposition, and the first to disapprove of it. After the suggestion has been turned down it is scarcely worth while for those who have been silent to "hoss" about it now.

Gave Baby Wood Alcohol.

Montgomery, Ala., July 30.—A negro nurse at Dothan, Ala., gave the 7-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Bennett, of Nashville, wood alcohol by mistake for limewater. The child went through the night in horrible agonies, and died with the morning.

To you, Marcelle!

II.

What stories sweet hath heaven to tell
To you, Marcelle?
What echoes where their anthems swell,
Like yours, Marcelle?
There—where Faith makes a gilded dome
For all the shelterless that roam,
What like your kiss when I came home,
To you, Marcelle?

III.

All sorrows which the day befell
Seemed faint, Marcelle!
I only knew you loved me well,
Marcelle—Marcelle!
A cabin door was home to me,
And in your Love's simplicity
Earth sweeter seemed than heaven could be,
Marcelle—Marcelle!

IV.

Against God's love I should rebel
If you, Marcelle,
Should break of Love the magic spell
That made Marcelle!
God would have nothing for me There,
Where shine His angels, crowned and fair,
Save your bright eyes and golden hair,
Marcelle—Marcelle!

CITY EXTENSION NOW IN BALANCE

Bill May Be Introduced in House Today.

WHAT REPRESENTATIVES SAY

They Will Hold Conference After Bill Has Been Introduced—City Attorney Will Transmit to Them a Copy of Bill Early Today.

The thirty days necessary for the advertising of the proposed extension of Atlanta's limits expired yesterday, and the bill can be legally introduced in the legislature today.

City Attorney Mayson stated yesterday afternoon that he would transmit the bill to the representatives of Fulton county in time to be introduced in the house today.

Senator Dobbs, of this senatorial district, states that he will abide the decision of the Fulton representatives before he reaches a decision on the extension of the city limits of Atlanta. If the representatives, he says, think the limits should be extended as proposed by the general council of Atlanta he will do what he can to have the charter amendment bill adopted in the senate.

The three representatives from Fulton county decline to commit themselves either one way or the other. They say that they do not care to state what action they will take until the bill has been introduced, and they have held a conference on the subject.

Will Carefully Consider It.

They state that at the conference they will go carefully over the bill and will discuss the evidence which came out at the public hearing last Tuesday evening. They will then decide whether or not they will advocate the bill or offer amendments to it.

As the legislature adjourns on August 12 there will be only twelve days in which to get the bill passed, not including three Sundays. This is plenty of time, if it is pushed and the representatives from Fulton county get squarely behind it.

Hon. John M. Slaton, when asked what were his views on the proposed extension of the city limits, said:

"I do not care to express any opinion at all just now. Mr. Blackburn, Mr. Bell and I have agreed to confer about the matter when the city attorney sends us the bill, and one of us introduces it in the house."

Hon. Robert B. Blackburn made exactly the same reply, and so did Hon. Madison Bell.

RANSOME TO BE TRIED BY A MILITARY COURT

Member of Fifth Regiment Ordered Before Court-Martial on August 3.

Charles A. Ransome, private in company B, Fifth infantry, national guard of Georgia, will be tried by court-martial, by order of Governor Smith, for alleged conduct to the prejudice of good order and military discipline.

The courtmartial will be held in Atlanta on August 3.

Private Ransome is charged with selling intoxicating liquor to Private James J. White, W. H. Walker, George Morris and two other soldiers, while on a tour of duty at the Chickamauga encampment, and with resisting and striking a sentinel while in the lawful discharge of his duty; and with being drunk and disorderly while on the train returning to the camp.

The charges as drawn up are three in number, with five specifications.

It was reported several days ago that a member of the Fifth regiment would be courtmartialed, but his name was not divulged until the formal charges were filed.

CONFEDERATE CAVALRY TO HOLD A REUNION

First and Sixth Georgia Cavalry to Gather in Cedartown on August 5.

The veterans of the Confederate First and Sixth Georgia cavalry will hold their annual reunion at Cedartown, Ga., on Wednesday, August 5.

G. W. R. Bell, president, and J. A. Wynn, adjutant of the association, have issued an invitation to all old comrades to be on hand. They have sent out cards in which they say:

"Come, our hearts and doors are open ready for you. We guarantee you a good time. Survivors of the Second, Third, and Fourth Georgia cavalry are invited to be present to consider the organization of a brigade association.

SENATOR BACON SAILS: VACATION IN EUROPE

Distinguished Georgian Will Recuperate on the Other Side and Study Conditions.

Senator Bacon sailed yesterday from New York for Bremen. The Constitution learns from his secretary that he has not gone on anything like a European tour, but only on a vacation trip of a few weeks. He will return in September. While the senator is abroad, he will examine into questions concerning reciprocity treaties affecting southern interests.

The senator, as every one knows, is a very hard-working official during the sessions of congress, and the sea voyages and Alpine air will invigorate him for the labors of the coming session of congress.

Mobile Troops Leave for Camp.

Mobile, Ala., July 30.—The Mobile battalion of the First Alabama infantry left the city today at an early hour for Chickamauga Park, Ga., to take part in the maneuvers with the regular troops at that place. All the companies showed a full roster, and were given a rousing reception by the people. Emile Verbeke, who was a drummer boy on the same field during the civil war, is a member of the regiment band.

Two Years for Mrs. Humphries.

Woodville, Miss., July 30.—Mrs. Amanda Humphries was sentenced yesterday by Judge M. H. Wilkinson to serve two years in the state penitentiary for killing Dick Messenger, about a year ago.

CLEAN SHEETS LAID ON TABLE

Only Routine Business Was Transacted in the Senate.

Yesterday's session of the senate was quiet. Regular routine business was the order of the day.

The first business before the senate was the resolution introduced in the house by the late Mr. Way, of Pulaski, and brought up at this session by the appropriation committee of the house, to return to Carroll Daniels the amount received by the state of Georgia for work done by him in the penitentiary, from March 5, 1906, to February 8, 1907, during which time he was illegally confined therein.

Senator Peacock brought it up before the senate, with amendment that the $224.22 received by the state from his hire be paid to his widow, Laura Daniels, as Carroll Daniels died from tuberculosis contracted while illegally confined in the penitentiary.

The resolution as amended was adopted by a vote of 31 to 5.

The clean-sheet bill of Mr. McMichael, of Marion county, came up for a third reading. While discussion was on, a motion to table was made, resulting in a vote of 16 to 16, the chair casting the deciding vote, and the bill was tabled.

The bill of Senators Peacock, Howard and Brock, prescribing the salaries of the solicitors general, was up for a hit debate, several senators taking part in the debate. The hour of adjournment having arrived while discussion of this bill was still on, the senate adjourned.

New Bills in Senate.

The following new bills were introduced in the senate:

By Senator Hudson—To require a tax or license of all persons selling, soliciting sale of, or taking orders for, photographs, portraits, pictures of any kind, paintings in oil or crayon, picture frames, books of any kind (Bible only excepted) in Harris county, Georgia, and to provide a penalty for failure or refusal to pay such license.

Bills Passed by Senate.

The following bills were passed by the senate:

By Senator Mattox—To amend the charter of the mayor and aldermen of St. Marys, and to add to their powers.

By Senator Cowart—To amend an act creating a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for the county of Calhoun.

By Senator Henderson, of the fifteenth district—To abolish the office of commissioner of roads and revenues for Irwin county.

By Senator Henderson, of the fifteenth district—To create a board of commissioners of roads and revenues for the county of Irwin, and for other purposes.

By Senator Felder—To amend the charter of the city of Macon, and for other purposes.

By Senator Henderson, of the thirty-ninth district—To authorize and empower members of local boards of school trustees to administer oaths to common school teachers to their monthly, quarterly and annual reports to the county school commissioners, and for other purposes.

By Mr. Slade, of Muscogee—A bill to amend the constitution of this state so as to define the qualifications of voters and provide for registration.

Brazil to Keep Her Battleships.

Rio Janerio, July 30.—Instructions have been forwarded to the Brazilian legation at London to declare again that not one of the three battleships of the Dreadnaught type now being constructed for Brazil in England is for sale.

UNIFORM DATE FOR PRIMARIES

Primary Bill Given Favorable Report by House Committee.

All county primaries will be held on the date of the state primary, fixed by the state executive committee, if the favorable report of the general judiciary committee of the house yesterday becomes a law.

The measure was introduced by Messrs. Wright, of Richmond, and Foster, of Cobb, calling for a primary date to be fixed by law.

The measure was referred to a special committee, composed of Smith of Calhoun, Perry of Hall, and Hardeman of Jefferson.

The committee selected as a primary date the third Wednesday in August, but upon the motion of Mr. Slater, of Bryan, this was killed, and it was left to the state executive committee.

This same subcommittee reported a bill to regulate the registration of voters.

It provides that registration books shall be opened by the tax collector when he opens his books to collect taxes. That all persons shall register by April 10. On April 20 the tax collector is required to issue an alphabetical list, by militia districts of those registered, and send them to the registrars. The tax collector, ordinary and clerk of the court are also to send to the registrars those in the county who are qualified to vote.

Any person paying taxes after April 10 and registering must be put upon the supplemental registration list and furnished the registrars, so as to get up the registration list by July 5.

Both of these measures were favorably reported.

A measure to place Tattnall, Toombs and Bulloch in the Atlantic, instead of the middle judicial circuit, was also favorably reported.

The measures to make the payment of poll tax voluntary, and to make the tax receiver instead of tax collector the one to register voters was unfavorably reported.

Ex-Governor Budd Dead.

BEFORE AND AFTER SHAVING; A STORY OF A MUSTACHE

No. 1.

HON. STEVE R. JOHNSTON, Before and After Shaving.

There is herewith presented a very startling and striking illustrated story of "Now You See Me, Now You Don't," or "Steve Johnston Before and After Shaving."

This is the first of a series of local stories along the same line which will be daily published in The Constitution. There has recently struck a mustache-shaving craze, and the no-mustache bacteria has inoculated Councilman Steve Johnston, Chief Jentzen, of the sanitary department; Wesley Preston, clerk of the recorder's court and recorder pro tem., and Nym McCullough, ex-member of the water board.

For something like a quarter of a century, ever since they could boast of a mustache, these four officials have worn this facial adornment, and why they should all at the same time suddenly remove them is a mystery as deep as what was in the letter which Joe Brown wrote Hoke Smith.

Some people contend that Steve Johnston is better looking without a mustache than he was with it, and others just as vehemently assert that he was handsomer with a mustache, while all agree that he is not at all bad-looking either way.

What made Steve Johnston shave off his mustache, which he loved and doted upon for so many long years?

Go ask who struck Billy Patterson, hunt for the bag of gold at the end of the rainbow, seek the Wandering Jew, guess what was in Joe Brown's letter; for, with all of these mysteries of the world, the mustache question takes its place.

Then gaze long and lingeringly upon the Hon. Steve, with a mustache and without one, and decide for yourself which makes the best picture, Steve with a mustache or Steve mustacheless.

HOUSE ADOPTS AMENDMENT KILLING THE LEASE SYSTEM

The house yesterday adopted a measure providing for a constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people, in October, abolishing the convict lease system in Georgia after December 31, 1911.

There were only three votes against the measure, and none of these were opposed to abolishing the system, because they did not consider the amendment, as offered, perfect. They were Edmondson of Chattooga, Perry of Hall and Stewart of Taylor. The other 148 members voting were on record as favoring the amendment.

Text of the Amendment.

It reads as follows:

The prevention and punishment of crime and restraint and control of criminals is a fundamental duty of the state, and no department of the government of Georgia or subdivision thereof shall have the power to hire out or lease any convict or the labor thereof to any private person or corporation by any contract to extend beyond the 31st day of December, 1911.

How Action Was Taken.

This is substantially the substitute as first drawn up by Mr. Adams of Chatham, which simply provides that the lease shall end on December 31, 1911. There are no whys and wherefores, just a plain estoppel, and leaving it to the next legislature to fix a solution.

The measure as brought into the house by Mr. Alexander of DeKalb, with the favorable report of the constitutional committee, limited the lease to December 31, 1911, but also declared that the funds arising from the hire of convicts in the meantime should go for a fund with which to take over the system in 1911.

Amendments were offered, one of which was by Mr. Alexander, limiting the lease to December 31, 1910.

Debate was turned loose on the measure, and it seemed another convict bill debate was imminent, and it was recalled by Mr. Alexander that the recent one cost the state in the neighborhood of $22,000.

Mr. Smith of Campbell offered an amendment which struck from the Alexander bill that section which provided for a penitentiary. The Smith amendment was adopted, and then the Alexander substitute as amended.

The house voted down the amendment by Mr. Blackburn of Fulton and Mr. McFarland of McIntosh, providing for an increase in the tax rate of one-half of one mill for the next three years to raise a penitentiary fund.

In the same way the Perry amendment to issue $750,000 in bonds was lost.

The bill, as adopted, was then sent to the senate.

STEPHENS BILL WAS FAVORED

House Committee Reports Measure Which Military Men Oppose.

The measure to provide for the organization of the "Georgia Volunteers," to be composed of men who have served in the National Guard of Georgia, was favorably reported by the house committee on military affairs yesterday afternoon by the narrow margin of one vote, cast by the chairman.

The bill was declared to be a menace to the National Guard of Georgia in that it might cause the national government to withdraw its support from the National Guard of Georgia, upon the organization of the "Georgia Volunteers."

Under the terms of the bill the "Georgia Volunteers" are not subject to call by the president, but only by the governor of the state. The bill is one which has passed the senate, being introduced by Senator Stephens, of the first district. It is said to be offered in the interest of the Savannah Volunteer Guards, which does not like to belong to the National Guard of Georgia.

Brigadier General Anderson, of Atlanta; Colonel N. E. Harris, of Macon, and Captain Smith, of Atlanta, spoke against the bill.

Senator Stephens and Representative Barrow, of Chatham, for the measure. It has only to pass the house to become a law, as it is stated the governor is in favor of the measure.

Educational Committee.

The house educational committee turned down the bill by Mr. Chamlee, of Floyd, which provides, when a scholarship, granting all expenses, is given a minor, and his parents object to his receiving it, the scholar may, upon application to the ordinary, have a guardian named for the fund and accept it.

Fail to Meet.

No quorum present prevented three committees of the house from meeting. The general judiciary committee was the first to try it and adjourned without action. The special judiciary committee tried to get a quorum and failed. The corporation committee endeavored to meet and did not have sufficient attendance. The house appropriation committee set to meet Thursday, did not have a chance, on account of conflicting committees, but will meet later.

THE WEATHER; RAIN AND WINDS

High Northeast Gale Will Prevail in Atlanta and Vicinity.

The weather: Rain, with high northeast winds. After that a long period of moderate temperatures will prevail. It is dog days, some people say, while others say it is not.

"Well, they are trying to do something new in Tennessee," said the Gopher. "Now, what do you suppose it is? It is as simple as writing the alphabet. A mere child could guess it. All of the brewers are for it, and the distillers are knocking each other down to have it done. What is it? Why just this: I understand that they are going to make Chattanooga sound like Boozanooga. That's pretty good, don't you think? Haven't had a drink in a long while, you say. Well, it is too hot for that. Just look at—

"The thermometer: It only registered 94 degrees."

HOUSE PASSES BOND MEASURE

Will Provide for Needed Improvements in Atlanta.

The people of Atlanta will soon have the opportunity of voting for a bond issue of $1,500,000 with which to perfect the waterworks system of the city, provide for sanitary sewerage and the proper number and equipment of the public schools of the city.

The local bill, amending the charter of the city of Atlanta allowing for this bond issue, was passed by the house yesterday, just one minute before adjournment, by a vote of 100 to 0. Immediately upon its passage it was transmitted to the senate, where State Senator E. P. Dobbs, from this district, will see that it is rushed through that body.

In addition to providing for the bond issue the measure changes the membership of the police commission from its present size to one in which every ward will be represented by a commissioner.

The measure amending the charter of the city of College Park, so as to provide for a bond issue for public utilities, as introduced by Fulton's representatives, Slaton, Blackburn and Bell, was passed by the same vote.

No Increased Per Diem.

The house went on record by a vote of 94 to 53 as being in favor of increasing the salary of the legislators from $4 to $7 per day for members and from $7 to $10 for the speaker of the house and president of the senate.

Even this vote, however, failed to pass the measure, for being a constitutional amendment it required 122 votes to get it passed by the house.

The element of "return" members entered largely into the debate and there was criticism of men voting to increase their own pay by the state.

The house, before adjourning, agreed to hold a joint session with the senate at noon Friday, August 7, to hold a memorial for the late John W. Akin, president of the senate.

New Bills in House.

The following new bills were introduced:

By Messrs. Tuggle and Young, of Troup—To authorize the city of West Point to abandon certain streets.

To authorize the city of West Point to convey certain streets to the Atlanta and West Point.

By Mr. Cowan, of Rockdale—To provide for removal of obstructions in running streams of Rockdale county.

By Mr. Hule, of Clayton—To amend charter of Jonesboro.

By Mr. Wise, of Fayette—To impose tax of $800 per annum upon all places selling near beer containing a less per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent; any over that per cent being considered in violation of the prohibition law.

By Mr. Johnson, of Jasper—Resolution for relief of Mrs. Alice Jones.

By Mr. Payton, of Worth—To make it unlawful to procure board and lodging with intent to defraud.

By Mr. Clifton, of Toombs—To repeal act incorporating Ohoopee.

Bills Passed by House.

The following bills were passed by the house:

By Messrs. Blackburn, Bell and Slaton, of Fulton—To amend charter of College Park.

To amend charter of city of Atlanta; to change method of organizing board of police commissioners, etc., and allow bond issue of $1,500,000.

LAY IN BUSHES FOR 48 HOURS

Young Man, Terribly Wounded, Too Weak to Crawl Home.

Valdosta, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—Owen Folsom, a young white man who lived with his father, P. G. Folsom, in the Red Land district of this county, was found lying by the roadside near his home in a dying condition today. The young man had lain in the bushes for 48 hours, unable to call for help or to get to his home, and died within a short time after being found.

P. G. Folsom, the father, came to this city this afternoon and reported the death of his son, which, he said, was caused by a lick on the head with a piece of scantling in the hands of a Mr. Powell, who ran a shingle mill in the community. The elder Folsom alleges that his son, who worked for Powell, became involved in a row with a negro Tuesday and that Powell took the negro's part and struck young Folsom a terrific lick on the head. Folsom left the scene for his home, but evidently became exhausted and went out into the woods near the road to rest, where he was found after two days. The surroundings showed that he had struggled over a considerable space in his intense sufferings. The coroner is investigating the affair.

The Blues and Grays Are Off.

Montgomery, Ala., July 30.—Two companies of the Alabama National Guard, numbering 150 men, got away last night for the camp at Chickamauga. They are the Montgomery Blues and the Montgomery Grays, made up of sons and grandsons of the Blues and Grays of the sixties. Since years before the civil war the two companies as now named, have been in Montgomery. As old men drop out and new ones come in, the former move into the reserve corps of each company, which has been maintained that the organization might never be broken.

DENIES MEMBERS OF UNION PATRONIZED A BLIND TIGER

J. L. Barron Makes Statement in Reference to Story in a Macon Paper.

J. L. Barron, ex-state secretary of the Georgia Farmers' Union, passed through the city last night on his way to Union City, from the state Farmers' Union convention, which has been in session in Macon for the last three days.

He reports a great meeting.

In reference to an article which appeared in a Macon paper in connection with the raid on a cafe, charged with selling liquor, Mr. Barron stated: "As I passed into the Southern depot I bought a copy of the paper, and noticed particularly the following paragraph, in connection with a story of the raid: 'Last night and all day yesterday farmers in Macon who were attending the Farmers' Union convention had been buying liquor at the cafe.' I at once called up the newspaper office, calling for the city editor, and was informed that neither he nor any reporters were in.

"On the Southern train I talked with several delegates, and all stated that they not only knew nothing of the affair, but had not smelled whisky during the entire convention.

"The delegates to the convention resent the statement that Farmers' Union men bought whisky at a blind tiger, as it appears to them from this paragraph to be a direct reflection on the delegates to this convention."

Doctor's Degree for a Hohenzollern.

Strassbourg, July 30.—The University of Strassbourg announced today that Prince August, the fourth son of Emperor William, had passed his examination for the degree of doctor in the science of government, with indorsement "very good" on his papers, and that the title of doctor had been conferred on him. This would seem to be the first time that a Hohenzollern has taken the degree of doctor.

STATE MAY LAY $200 TAX ON SELLERS OF NEAR BEER

Near the close of the present session of the general assembly there is to be precipitated a near prohibition fight, for a bill was introduced in the house yesterday morning which proposes to tax all places in Georgia that sell any near beer, containing less than one and one-half per cent alcohol, $200 for this privilege.

The bill further contends that any beer containing over 1½ per cent cent alcohol is already in violation of the present prohibition law.

The measure was introduced by Mr. Wise, of Fayette, the chairman of the house committee on ways and means, as an amendment to the general tax act, and was referred by the speaker to that committee.

Will Precipitate Fight.

A wordy war is expected in the committee room, for the manufacturers of near beer will not submit to this tax without a fight.

Mr. Wise, the author of the measure, estimates that by this tax the revenues of the state will be increased annually, by $100,000. The measure came unexpectedly and immediately the house sat up and took notice, for by its introduction it was seen another fight was assured.

The measure does not touch the prohibition law, but like the "locker club" tax of $500 per annum, it is a part of the general tax act.

There are several thousand places in the state where near beer is sold exclusively, and nearly every fountain in the state handles it as a side line.

Text of the Measure.

The measure in full is as follows:

All places of business keeping or selling liquids for beverage purposes in imitation of beer containing a less per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent shall pay a tax of two hundred dollars per annum. There shall be no exemption from this tax. All such liquids in imitation of beer containing a higher per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent shall be deemed intoxicating liquors, the keeping or selling of which is now prohibited by law. Any person, firm or corporation running such place of business and paying said tax, who shall be convicted of keeping or selling any beer or intoxicating liquors or any liquor in imitation of beer of a higher per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent, shall in addition to the penalty prescribed for keeping or selling intoxicating liquors in Georgia, forfeit to the state all taxes paid and shall be prohibited from again engaging in such business, either as owner, agent or otherwise.

Upon all manufacturers of liquids for beverage purposes, in imitation of beer containing a less per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent, the sum of five hundred dollars tax to the state shall be paid. All manufacturers of imitation beer, containing a higher per cent of alcohol than one and one-half per cent shall be deemed in violation of the laws of Georgia, forbidding the manufacture of intoxicating liquors.

WOMAN FACES MURDER CHARGE

Was Given Life Sentence at First Trial---New Trial Granted.

Gainesville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The case of the State v. Mrs. Sue Brooks, charged with assault with intent to murder, in the case of the killing of Jack Collins, on October 13, 1906, by her son, Foster Brooks, who is now serving a life sentence for the killing of Collins, was called this morning.

This case has attracted considerable local attention, as Mrs. Brooks, with her son, Foster Brooks, were tried for the murder of Collins at the July term of the court last year, and both were found guilty, recommended to the mercy of the court, and received life sentences.

Mrs. Brooks was given a new trial by the supreme court, but a new trial was not granted to Foster Brooks, hence he is now serving a life sentence, and she is now being tried for assault with intent to murder.

The story of the case is, that Jack Collins, janitor at the court house, went out to the house of a relative on the Athens road, near where Mrs. Brooks and her son, Foster, live, became partially intoxicated, it is claimed, and a general row followed. Mrs. Brooks sought to make Collins leave the premises, and this caused more trouble.

Foster Brooks came to the rescue of his mother, and with a big stick, it is claimed, beat Collins to death.

As Mrs. Brooks was the first to try to get Collins to go off and her son joined her, finally killing Collins by a blow on the head with a stick, they were both tried for murder, the supreme court reversing the verdict in the case of the mother, and allowing it to stand in the case of the son.

The evidence is conflicting.

There are a number of eye-witnesses who give different versions of the killing.

NORTH CAROLINA SAFE SAYS GOVERNOR GLENN

The Old North State Will Roll Up Its Usual Big Democratic Majority.

Raleigh, N. C., July 30.—(Special.)—In a conversation with Governor Glenn today regarding the political outlook in the state, the first question being as to his views about the state ticket, the governor said as to the republican claim that they would carry North Carolina or else greatly reduce the democratic majority, he could only smile and state what he had told Governor Fort, of New Jersey, when they were recently together. He told governor Fort that when Pennsylvania gave a democratic majority then the republicans might have some hope that North Carolina was going their way.

Governor Glenn went on to say that always after conventions people were to be found ready to predict a falling off of majorities, but that he is well satisfied that after the campaign is begun in an aggressive way by the democrats, that the people will understand, as in fact they already do very well, that prosperity in this state has always followed a democratic administration and that a republican administration has always brought trouble and turmoil and that therefore the democratic majority, he feels very sure, will be as great, if not even greater, than it was four years ago when he was elected.

When asked about the congressional delegation Governor Glenn said he wished to express his very positive belief that it will again be solidly democratic. He sees not a shadow of doubt of this result.

Pensions for Aged Persons.

London, July 30.—The house of lords passed today the old age pension bill, with several amendments which will be rejected by the house of commons. There is little doubt but that the lords will acquiesce to these rejections when the measure is returned to them.

EXPORT TRADE WILL BE LOST

Transcontinental Roads Can't Work Under Rule of Commission.

Washington, July 30.—The report that the trans-continental railroads controlled by James J. Hill, Edward H. Harriman, the Berwynd syndicate and the Canadian government, have determined to surrender their export trade to China, Japan, New Zealand and Australia on November 1 has created a great deal of interest at the offices of the interstate commerce commission in this city. If this action is taken, it will merely fulfill the prediction that has been made by railroad officials who have resisted the enforcement of the rule of the commission by which they are obliged to publish the portion of their export rate which goes to the railroads for hauling shipments to seaports, and to give notice of any increase or decrease in those rates.

The railroads have claimed ever since this rule became effective that they could not comply with it and conduct their export trade.

James J. Hill gave an expose of the difficulty that confronted him in a matter of this kind, when before the commission, saying he had an opportunity to bid on the delivery of 60,000 barrels of flour to the Orient, but, as he could not quote a rate without formally giving notice, he was unable to make a bid for the business, and the delay caused the order to be placed in Australia. Constantly changing ocean rates and the demands of trade, the carriers have represented, make it necessary that they should be free to quote a rate on export business without a moment's delay. They have frequently declared that the commission's rule would put them out of the export trade, with the result of causing an immense loss to the foreign trade of the nation.

A Spot Where Rare and Beautiful Scenery Abounds.

Nothing augments the pleasure of the tourist, relieves the worried mind or soothes the pains of the sufferer more than beautiful scenery. Thousands of people have been impressed with the grandeur of the "Hills of Habersham." How could anyone help it?

Mt. Airy Falls.

Leaving the train at Mt. Airy one's eyes behold in the distance the peaks of the Blue Ridge Mountains, and rightly they are named, for piercing the pure atmosphere as they do, the effect is such that the blue cast around them is of the rarest color and particularly fascinating. The air might be ever so pure, the water cool and sparkling, but there would be a noted vacancy if nature had not erected fitting monuments to become her other blessings. Mere words are futile when an effort is made to describe a beautiful spot and particularly so in this case, and we only hope to sufficiently impress the reader with the surroundings of Mt. Airy, so that a desire will be created to behold this section in all its beauty.

Looming in the north are several imposing mountains with nothing to obstruct the view from Mt. Airy. One never grows tired of gazing upon them. To the northeast there is an incline of several hundred feet within a few miles, 'till one's view again catches the Alleghenies range in the distance. On the east are again to be seen mountains, the bases of which border upon the town itself. To the south leads a beautiful drive past some of the finest peach orchards in the south; in fact, there are excellent roads leading in every direction, each leading to some point of interest in itself. For the pedestrian there are hundreds of beautiful spots to attract attention, particularly the falls, only a short distance, or the cascades, a little further, yet well worth seeing, for they are in the very heart of nature and extremely fascinating.

Beautiful scenery is so abundant that one never has occasion to complain of growing tired of the surroundings; on the other hand one never sees enough of them.

Take advantage of the week-end rates, August 8, and come and see the garden spot of the south and if you think well enough of it, buy one of the 150 lots that will be sold at auction on that day.

ANTI-PROHIBITIONISTS WON OUT AT BIRMINGHAM

Capt. O'Brien, Who Led the Fight Against Prohibition, Was Elected Mayor Without Opposition.

Birmingham, Ala., July 30.—(Special.) The politician with an eye to reformation profited little as a result of the city primary this week. Without exception the prohibitionists bit the dust.

Captain Frank P. O'Brien, who led the fight against prohibition in Jefferson county, was nomniated for mayor without opposition. W. Melville Drenmen, a staunch prohibitionist, in the face of certain defeat, pulled in his canvass two weeks prior to the balloting.

In the chief of police race, a prohibitionist, William E. Wier, was overwhelmingly defeated by George H. Bodeker, a hard worker in the cause of anti-prohibition, but a staunch believer in the enforcement of the law.

In the race for president of the city council, anti-prohibition scored another triumph. Harry Jones, one of the leaders against prohibition in the recent fight, won easily over Ben H. Cooper, an avowed "reformer," and the supporter of several drastic ordinances in the city council, one of these being an ordinance to the effect that newspapers in Birmingham must not carry whisky advertisements.

Carl Seals, advertising in the papers that he favored anti-prohibition in the recent Jefferson county campaign, but believed in enforcing the law, swept the city, leading three other candidates much older than he and more experienced in the game of politics.

In the aldermanic races, anti-prohibitionists were the victors without a single exception. While prohibition was not made an issue in the race, the voters, evidently, bore in mind how the several candidates stood when, as they term it, "Birmingham's continued prosperity was at stake."

With the city under the control of anti-prohibitionists, the question might be raised, "Will the laws be enforced rigidly and to the letter?"

It is believed that the prohibition laws will be enforced as rigidly as possible. All the nominees have so declared themselves. However, to date prohibition has scored a miserable failure in Birmingham.

Charged With Robbing Farmer.

Columbia, S. C., July 30.—(Special.)—Joe McDonald and Thomas Melvin, white, were given a hearing before the city recorder this evening and held for the higher court on the charges of assault and battery and highway robbery. Their alleged victim was D. B. Wise, a Lexington county farmer, who was held up and robbed about 9 o'clock Saturday night. Bond was fixed at $500 each.

"THE SQUEEZE" DRAWING LARGE CROWDS DAILY

A world of mystery and a world of fun are contained in the Squeeze, the newest amusement at Ponce de Leon, and already one of the most popular.

The Squeeze is unlike anything else on the grounds. One never knows and very seldom guesses what is coming next after he has entered. It is a unique contrivance, made up of a number of unique contrivances, and a second trip through is as keenly enjoyable as the first.

CATCHING TONS OF FISH.

Mobile People Very Much Alarmed Over Situation.

Montgomery, Ala., July 30.—(Special.)—John H. Wallace, Jr., state game and fish commissioner, has received word that a fleet of schooners is taking tons of fish a day from the waters of the bay off Coffee island, and carrying them to Louisiana and Mississippi to be ground up and made into fertilizer. Mobile people have become very much alarmed, and are urging Mr. Wallace to do what he can to stop the practice.

It is brought out that the boats have seines about fifteen hundred feet in length, and that they take as much as two tons at a haul. Everything, from a minnow to the largest fish, is taken, so that not only are the waters being depleted for the present, but for the future. A large boat with a windlass is used to haul the fish in after being captured, and the seines often drag up immense loads of all kinds of the water inhabitants, which are loaded into the holds and taken to the crushers.

The Mobile and Baldwin county members of the legislature had those counties and the salt waters that ebb and flow exempted from the Alabama laws, so that it is not likely the game commissioner can reach them. However, he will do what he can to stop the practice, and, if nothing more, hopes to arouse a sentiment that will result in a more stringent law at the next session of the legislature.

"GET ANOTHER TO FOOL WITH"

Leaving That Message for Employers, Allan Reid Shot Himself.

Vancouver, B. C., July 30.—News has just reached here of the death by his own hand of Allen Reid, manager for the Anchor Investment Company, of Winnipeg, at Massett, Graham Island, of the Charlotte group. Reid shot himself. He left a letter in which he told the company to "Get another man to fool with" in his place.

The coroner's jury severely censured the company for sending a man to such a lonely place and "then neglecting to properly to provide for him."

ARRESTED FOR THE THEFT

Wells Married the Girl and They Toured England, Finally Returning to Boston, Where the Groom Was Put Under Arrest.

Boston, July 30.—According to the police, Harry T. Wells, formerly cashier of the First National bank, Kenosha, Wis., who was arrested here last night, confessed today that he had taken about $6,000 from the bank. He gave as a reason his desire to marry Miss Florence E. Winniston, the daughter of a wealthy retired trader of London, whom he had met in Chicago.

He stated, the police say, that for a time he took small sums, and in September, 1907, eloped with Miss Winniston to New York, where they were married. Mrs. Wells went to England and Wells returned to Kenosha. Shortly afterwards, he is said to have told the police, he took $3,200 in a lump, left his home, joined his wife in England, and together they went on a tour of the British isles.

Then they came to Montreal, when their money gave out. Wells confessed to his wife, and they resolved to come to Boston, get work and pay back the money to the bank. They did this, buying out a lodging house with money obtained by selling Mrs. Wells' jewels, while Wells found a position in Cambridge. Then the arrest put an end to their dreams.

Mrs. Wells visited her husband in the Tombs today and gave him pathetic assurances that she would stand by him.

AMNESTY GIVEN BY THE SULTAN

All Fugitives From Turkey Will Be Allowed to Return.

New York, July 30.—The sultan of Turkey, through the Turkish consul general in this city, today proclaimed general amnesty to all political fugitives, regardless of race, in this country. This relates to about 200,000 Armenians and others in the United States.

The message received by the Turkish consul general from the Turkish government was as follows:

"Inform all fugitive Turkish citizens in New York city and in all the United States, including political fugitives, without regard to race or nationality, whether Greek, Armenian, Turkish, Albanian, everything, that, after promulgation of a constitution for the Turkish empire, his majesty, the sultan, on request of the government, has granted general amnesty, and all political fugitives may go back to Turkey after having the necessary passports verified at the office of the Turkish consul general, 59 Pearl street, New York."

The reading of the announcement to a number of his countrymen by the consul general was greeted with cheers. Munji Bey said:

"I regard it as the most important step forward that has yet been taken, insofar as it relates to Turkish subjects in the United States. There are some 400,000 Turkish citizens in this country, and more than 200,000 of these are political fugitives. The Armenian and the Greek Turk, all natives of one country, can now feel that they are welcome in the land of their birth. This is a great day for Turkey and the Turkish people."

"GOD SAVE POLAND."

So Say the Poles of Chicago When Bishop Was Consecrated.

Chicago, July 30.—With a parade of 20,000 men in uniform, the blare of bands, the thrill of fireworks, the glare of light, the gaiety of flags and bunting and gala attire, the pealing of church bells, the joy of feasting, the excitement of oratory and bursts of song, nearly 200,000 men, women and children of Polish descent reveled last night in one of the most remarkable festivals that Chicago ever had seen.

Uniformed societies from every one of the thirty-two Polish parishes in the city formed a great parade and escorted from one to another of the four churches of the principal Polish district, the cause of the demonstration, the right Rev. Paul Peter Rhodes, the new auxiliary bishop of Chicago, and first Polish-American elevated to the episcopacy of the Roman Catholic church.

When the clergy at the cathedral formed in an impressive procession, rich with the color of the vestments, crucifixes and croziers, to leave the church, the choir, through with the sacred ritual of the consecration, swung enthusiastically, yet prayerfully, into the strain of "God Save Poland," the national hymn of the Polish people.

Every Polish-speaking person in the cathedral, men and women, priests and nuns, and above all the bishop-elect, took up the plaintive measures of the song. And as its sad significance touched them more deeply as they thought of their countrymen lying in the prisons of Russia, Prussia and Austria for having dared to intercede musically with the deity of their beloved country, scores gave way to their emotions and wept like children.

Unmuzzled Dogs Being Killed.

New York, July 30.—Acting under orders of the board of health, sixty policemen have been busy for a few days killing every dog that is found running at large without a muzzle, according to a statement today by Walter Bensel, city sanitary superintendent. The order results from several cases of rabies which occurred in June.

GIRL WHO CAME FROM TEXAS AND YOUNG MAN SHE MARRIED

MR. AND MRS. H. W. FINCH.

Mrs. Finch Was Miss Iona Field, of Cooper, Tex., Sixteen Years of Age. She Came Alone to Georgia to Marry Her Sweetheart.

Sixteen-Year-Old Mrs. H. W. Finch, Who Was Miss Iona Field, of Texas, Until Dr. Ward Tied the Knot.

Here is a picture of the 16-year-old girl who braved the horrors of traveling alone, and the fears of parental pursuit, and came all the way from Cooper, Texas, to Atlanta to be married to her 20-year-old lover.

The happy young bride was Miss Iona Field, a daughter of a Baptist minister, Rev. J. F. Field, of Cooper, Texas. Her husband is H. W. Finch, manager of the Georgia Collection Company, who resides with his sister, Mrs. Daniel Boone, at 52 Williams street.

The two young people met while Mrs. Finch was on a visit in Georgia several months ago. Each fell desperately in love with the other, and when she returned to her home in Texas many little letters of unusual thickness passed between them. They eventually figured it out that two could live as cheaply as one.

The parents of the young woman did not object to the marriage, only they wished the ceremony to occur in Cooper. Young Finch objected to the unnecessary expense he would suffer in traveling to and from Texas, so he inclosed his young fiancee a ticket to Atlanta. She left her home in Texas without the knowledge of her parents, and arrived in Atlanta on Wednesday afternoon. She was met at the depot by young Finch and a quiet ceremony was at once performed, Rev. A. C. Ward officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Finch are making their home at 52 Williams street with Mr. Finch's sister, Mrs. Boone.

NO VERDICT WAS MADE IN ALLEGED ASSAULT CASE

Young Men at Gainesville Were Charged With Criminal Assault on Miss Carrie Hallman.

Gainesville, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—The jury in the case of Hershal Robinson and Neal Powell, charged with attempting to criminally assault Miss Carrie Hallman, stayed out all night, and reported at 11 o'clock this morning that they were not likely to agree on a verdict.

The case was called in the superior court yesterday afternoon, and these two young men were put on trial. The case went to the jury last night at 7:15 o'clock.

The evidence showed that the young men saw this girl coming into the city walking down the street car track Wednesday, May 20, and, being on the car, stopped it and got off. They went back to where the girl was, and, after talking with her a while, seized her and carried her into the woods. They were in the act of assaulting her when James Shirley, who heard the screams of the girl, came upon the scene.

CHARGED WITH ASSAULT; NEGRO RELEASED ON BOND

Advised by Sheriff to Go Somewhere Else Until His Trial Comes Off.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 30.—Mose Porter, the negro arrested at Newport, Tenn., on a charge of attempted assault upon Miss Lydia Inman, a 20-year-old white girl, was brought to this city by Sheriff Boyer for safe keeping. Mob violence was threatened at Newport, and the prisoner was spirited away. Last night the negro was released on bond. He was advised by the sheriff to go to some other community until his trial should be called.

Roosevelt and Rate Advance.

Cincinnati, Ohio, July 30.—The Receivers and Shippers' Association received word from President Roosevelt today that the attorney general is "carefully looking into the matter" of the protest anent railroad freight advances. In the letter the Receivers' and Shippers' Association protested against proposed advances in freight rates to Texas territory and declared that two railroads have apparently already disobeyed a court order on this subject.

THREE HOUSES ARE DYNAMITED

Martial Law Will Come if Bushwhacking Continues, Says Sheriff Higdon.

Birmingham, Ala., July 30.—Three houses were dynamited in the vicinity of Wylam, 7 miles from Birmingham, about midnight last night, but no one was injured. John Conniff, who is still working, was met last night on his way from the mines and got the worst of a personal difficulty with a striker, the latter being fined in the mayor's court in Wylam this morning when the little court room was packed to the doors.

Three miners were arrested this morning at Mary Lee, and threats were mad that th prisoners could not oe taken to the county jail. A telephone message to the sheriff resulted in a call for a military company, and the soldiers rushed to the scene and, without the least trouble, brought the men in. The prisoners made bond after reaching the city. After a conference with the governor this morning, Sheriff Higdon announced that if bushwhacking continued, that martial law would probably be ordered for certain sections of the mining district.

DOLLAR-A-DAY STORY DENIED.

Taft Says He Made No Such Remark About Working Men.

Hot Springs, Va., July 30.—F. W. Carpenter, private secretary to Judge Taft, this afternoon issued the following statement:

"Friends of Mr. Taft on returning here from Cincinnati found a story circulating that Mr. Taft had in some speech or at some time declared that a dollar a day or a dollar and a quarter a day was enough for any working man. The story is utterly false. Mr. Taft never made such a statement, or anything like it. This is made upon the authority of Mr. Taft himself."

The Pan-American Medical Congress Will Meet in Guatemala.

New Orleans, July 30.—Several American physicians will sail from here today on the steamer Preston for Guatemala, where they will attend the Pan-American medical congress in Guatemala City, beginning August 5. Tropical fevers will be one of the topics of discussion. Among those sailing are: Dr. Gregorio M. Guiteras, United States public health and marine hospital service; Dr. Samuel Sherwell of Brooklyn, Dr. Garcia Leeos of New York, and Dr. W. F. Shuttles of Dallas.

HELD FOR COUNTERFEITING.

Prominent Physician and His Parents Are Arrested.

Harrison, Ark., July 30.—The arrest of Dr. L. W. Blanchard, a prominent physician and church worker, and his aged father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Blanchard, has revealed probably the largest and most complete counterfeiters' outfit ever found in the state. Dies, moulds and hundreds of spurious coins of various denominations were found by the officers, counterfeit money being buried in the fields and concealed in the house and garden.

J. H. Blanchard and his wife, it is stated, admitted their son had made counterfeit money, but denied having attempted to pass any of it themselves. Mrs. Blanchard said her son had practiced medicine successfully in Nebraska, Wyoming and Colorado. Some time ago he purchased a 400-acre plantation here to live with his parents.

Mexican Railway Bonds in Demand.

New York, July 30.—It was announced here today that the $30,000,000 of Mexican Central 4 per cent bonds recently purchased by a syndicate of French bankers from New York bankers and offered in Paris have been heavily oversubscribed.

TUBERCULOSIS SANITARIUM FAVORED BY LOWER HOUSE

Georgia is to have a state sanitarium for the treatment of tuberculosis, if the senate concurs in the action of the house yesterday morning in passing, by a vote of 141 to 14, the Whitley bill, which provides for the establishment of such an institution, by the state, at once.

In his brief speech, outlining the measure, Dr. Whitley, of Douglas, the author of the measure, stated that he had the promises of private parties to contribute $25,000 with which to maintain the sanitarium if the state would only establish the institution.

After a brief bit of debate, in which the measure was indorsed by Messrs. Persons of Monroe, Trent of Heard, and Whitley of Douglas, Wright of Floyd, the vote was taken, and the measure passed.

The bill carries with it an appropriation of $25,000 with which to establish the sanitarium.

Of this sum $1,000 is to be made available this year; $12,000 during the year 1909, and the final $12,000 during the year 1910.

The governor is to appoint a board of trustees, to be known as a board of managers, two from each congressional district in the state, one of whom must be a physician.

There are to be two wards to the sanitarium, one for the treatment of pay patients, and the other for the treatment of indigent patients.

Dr. Willis Westmoreland, of the state board of health, and Dr. Claud Smith both appeared before the appropriation committee to speak in favor of the appropriation, and it was granted.

Not until it is passed by the senate and approved by the governor will any site be considered.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, July 30.—A local estimator of the crop condition makes its 86.5, in anticipation of the government figures tomorrow. These are thought to be probably 83 or thereabouts, and the market awaits them without interest, believing the estimate simply an average of guesses, with those guesses based upon the unvarying good conditions of the past few weeks. Of greater import will be the effect of August notices tomorrow and indicating the possible intent of the recent buyers of that delivery trading is reduced to a minimum and the market is stagnant.

Carpenter, Baggott & Co.

New York, July 30.—Yesterday's dullness was simply transferred to today, but it was at the low levels instead of the high. The ring thought they discovered quiet selling by the bull clique, and in consequence helped the decline along until October was hammered down to 9.30. At this point, however, supporting orders seemed to be in evidence, and some short covering was indulged in without advancing prices materially. There was nothing in the news to encourage bullish operations, the weather was all that could be desired, except a lack of rain in Texas. Other sections received it in proportions as needed. The Journal of Commerce report, which, by the way, is the most trustworthy outside of the government, was optimistic as to the final outcome of the crop, claiming that the healthy and well founded condition of the plant with present weather conditions practically assured a large crop, allowing for the usual August and September deterioration.

AUGUST COTTON GAINS 5 POINTS

New Crop One to Two Points Lower.

Market Opened Steady at Decline of Two or Three Points, but Rallied Afterwards and Closed Near the Top.

New York, July 30.—While private condition reports indicated a somewhat lower figure by the official statement than had been previously looked for, today's cotton market continued quiet, with prices showing more irregularity than any real tendency. The close was steady, net 5 points higher to 2 points lower. Sales were estimated at 75,000 bales.

The market opened steady at a decline of 2@5 points and, during the middle of the morning, increased the loss to a matter of 5@8 points under local bear pressure, light southern selling and scattering liquidation, which was promoted by disappointing crop and good weather reports. Some thought that the bears were trying to test the market to determine the attitude of the bull party on the approach of the first August notice day, and the government report at noon tomorrow, but support was forthcoming around 9.30 for October, and during the afternoon a rally to about the closing prices of last night on the new crop, was led by August, which sold at 9.81, or 6 points net higher. The close was within a point of the top, August showing a gain of 5 points, while the new crop was 1 to 2 points net lower. Four private condition reports were issued during the day, showing an improvement for the month of from 6-10 of 1 per cent to 2.2 per cent.

Liverpool will be closed on Friday, Saturday and Monday.

Southern spot markets were unchanged to ⅛c lower.

A gulf storm is reported off the Atlantic coast, and with rains predicted for the eastern belt, there may have been some covering during the day on apprehensions of unsettled conditions in that section.

Estimated receipts at the ports today 2,655 bales against 2,426 last week and 285 last year. For the week 25,000 bales against 23,160 last week and 10,245 last year.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands 10.70; middling gulf 10.95. Sales none.

New Orleans Cotton.

New Orleans, July 30.—Cotton, spot quiet; low ordinary 5 7-8c, nominal; ordinary 6 11-16c, nominal; good ordinary 8 1-8c; low middling 9 3-8c; middling 10 3-8c; good middling 10 13-16c; middling fair 11 5-16c; fair 11 15-16c, nominal; sales 653; receipts 143; stock 51,004.

Futures opened quiet and steady, 2 to 3 points below the close yesterday, due to unfavorable advices from Liverpool. The market was marked by considerable dullness on account of the approach of the bureau report next Friday, the general expectation that it would probably be somewhat bearish and the fact that there is little interest being taken on either side of the market just at present. This condition prevailed during the morning, and without the development of important factors during the late session; the close was steady, with the active months 4 points below the close yesterday.

Dry Goods.

New York, July 30.—An active trade was done by the large jobbing houses in the dry goods market during the day, and some very good orders were received for dress ginghams and flannelettes for prompt delivery. The primary market remained quiet and unchanged. Some of the brown cotton mills will shut down for two weeks, beginning next Monday. Raw silk is higher, but the mills are not showing any disposition to order large quantities at today's figures.

COTTON 82.6 AGAINST 81.4

Journal of Commerce Compares Cotton With a Month Ago.

New York, July 30.—(Special.)—The Journal of Commerce, in its monthly cotton report, shows the condition of cotton on July 23 as 82.6, as against 81.4 a month ago, or an improvement of 1.2 points. This is a condition of 8.1 higher than a year ago, and 1.7 points above the 10-year average at this time.

As only unimportant signs of deterioration had shown themselves at the date of these reports, and so the plant is in excellent shape to withstand the usual deteriorating influence of August and September, the prospects of a large crop are very good.

Heavy producing states, such as Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama, all show heavy gains, ranging from 4.3 points in Texas to 7.4 points in Louisiana. These high increases are offset by a loss of 2 points in South Carolina, and the very moderate increases of 1.5 points in Georgia and 0.8 point in North Carolina.

Oklahoma is the only state that has experienced misfortune, but advices since the date of this report show rapid recovery, and an approach to normal conditions.

Boll weevil damage is inconsiderable thus far, and the absence of excessive moisture for the remainder of the season will save the crop from much loss by this pest.

The date of picking will be about normal, although a number of sections expect an earlier movement of cotton than usual. The condition by states, compiled from 1,450 reports, is given below. Florida remains unchanged at 80.4, and South Carolina is 2 points lower at 81.3. Otherwise all states show advances during the month as follows:

North Carolina	0.8 to 90.2
Georgia	1.5 to 84.0
Alabama	5.0 to 85.6
Mississippi	4.6 to 86.2
Louisiana	7.4 to 84.8
Texas	4.2 to 82.2
Arkansas	4.4 to 86.0
Tennessee	2.7 to 86.7
Missouri	6.0 to 87.0
Oklahoma	4.2 to 72.1

General conditions are unusually uniform throughout the belt, with the exception of Oklahoma, where excessive spring rains caused much replanting, making a very late start, but recent reports show rapid improvement. The plant is of good average size, strong and healthy and well-fruited. Cultivation is exceptionally good, and fields will nearly all be laid by in this condition.

WHEAT STRONG AND ADVANCING

Black Rust in the Fields of the Dakotas.

September Delivery Up Nearly a Cent—Corn Three-Quarters to Seven-Eighths Higher—Oats Advanced Five-Eighths of a Cent.

Chicago, July 30.—The local wheat market was strong today, owing to an active demand based on additional "black-rust" reports from the Dakotas. At the close the September delivery was up 7-8@1c. Corn was 3-4@7-8c higher; oats were up 5-8c; provisions were 5 to 15c higher.

The wheat market was strong all day, with the exception of a brief period of nervousness at the outset, when prices dropped a trifle below the entire session, was the situation in the northwest, where the new crop, it is claimed, is in danger of being injured by black rust. Nearly every commission house reported on the board of trade had dispatches claiming that rust blight had appeared in the wheat fields of North and South Dakota. Many of these dispatches, however, asserted that it was still uncertain whether or not the crop had been seriously damaged. A falling off in receipts in the southwest helped to inspire bullish sentiment. There was liberal realizing at times, but all offerings were readily absorbed. The market closed strong, with prices near the high point. September opened 1-8c lower to 1-8c higher at 90 1-9@90 3-8, sold at 89 7-8 and then advanced to 91 1-2@91 5-8c. The close was at 91 1-8@91 1-4c. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 134,400 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 474 cars, against 468 cars last week and 387 cars one year ago.

Corn was strong, chiefly because of the advance in wheat. The market was affected to some extent by the hot, dry weather now prevailing over almost the entire corn belt, and by the firm market at Liverpool. An advance of 1c in the price of the cash grain also had a bullish influence. The close was strong. September opened 1-8@1-4c lower to 1-2@5-8c higher at 73 7-8 to 73 1-2; sold at 73 3-4, and then advanced to 74 5-8c. The close was at 74 1-2c. Local receipts were 160 cars, with 18 of contract grade.

Oats were strong on active demand brought out by crop damage reports from the northwest. Cash houses reported few acceptances on overnight bids, and this tended to strengthen the market. September opened 3-8c higher at 44 5-8, sold at 44 3-8 and then advanced to 45 1-4@45 3-8c. The close was at 44 7-8c. Local receipts 141 cars.

Provisions were strong owing to a 10@15c advance in live hogs. Local packers were the principal buyers, although there was considerable buying for investment account. At the close September pork was up 15c at $15.77 1-2. Lard was 5c higher at $9.50. Ribs were 7 1-2c higher at $9.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Wheat 271 cars; corn 201 cars, oats 177 cars; hogs 14,000 head.

JAMES LARISEY TALKS ABOUT PIANO TUNERS

He Discusses the Bill Which Has Been Introduced in the Legislature.

The bill which was introduced in the legislature by Mr. Buchannon, of Early county, to create a state board of piano tuners, is causing considerable comment. James A. Larisey, of 96 Cooper street, has sent The Constitution the following statement in regard to the matter:

It goes without saying that all bona fide piano tuners will favor some sort of legislation along the line proposed. But there are some things to guard against, unmentioned by Mr. L. C. Hasel in his interview appearing in your paper.

The legislature should be very careful in framing their measure, lest it should result in a monopoly for one or more tuners, etc. The bill proposed provides that a board of five musicians be appointed who are to pass on the qualifications of those who make pretensions along this line.

In the first place, five competent musicians are no more capable of passing upon the ability of a piano tuner than Helmholtz was of composing sonatas. The great masters created their wonderful compositions totally ignorant of the principles of harmony, their work being purely inspirational. As a matter of fact, the system of tempering now in vogue on instruments of fixed keys has been adopted in comparatively recent times, long after the great masters had shuffled off this mortal coil. To such men as Tyndal, Helmholtz and other philosophers we owe our present system of equal temperament, not omitting John Sebastian Bach.

The average musician does not know what temperament means. It is not in his curriculum. The writer in his experience as a tuner has tested graduates of conservatories, and has yet to find one who can give a satisfactory explanation of why certain notes in the octave are not tuned according to just intonation. That is to say, no piano is perfectly tuned. Why? This is the eternal question, and it takes a competent tuner to answer it. Now if such a board is formed, to be clothed with authority as other boards, it should be represented by at least three who are piano tuners and not merely musicians. In the first place, piano tuners are not necessarily musicians, and vice versa. They are two separate graduations, yet the two are commonly supposed to be one and the same. There are certain men, claiming Atlanta as their home, who are vainly trying to monopolize the trade, and are actually of the opinion that they alone understand their calling. Piano dealers who are not tuners should have no place on such a board, as in the case of the state medical board, composed entirely of physicians and surgeons. The state at large should have representation on the board, and not merely Atlanta.

There are competent piano tuners in Macon, Savannah, Columbus, Athens, and, in fact, all over the state, bred and born in the state, who never saw the inside of a piano factory. I, for one, am in favor of some such law being enacted that will afford the unsophisticated public some little protection from musical quacks. Yet it would be far worse for such a necessary art to pass into the hands of a few designing persons. An independent tuner should not be allowed to sell pianos—here is where the rascality comes in.

MARKET WAS IDLE MOST OF THE TIME

Settlement Plan of Wheeling and Erie Notes Never Came.

When the Postponement Was Announced All Disposition to Operate in Market Seemed to Have Been Lost—Bonds Were Irregular.

New York, July 30.—The stock market was much neglected today and for a large part of the time was practically idle. Influence of this result was attributed to a feeling of suspense over the withheld announcement of the plan of settlement of the Wheeling and Lake Erie note maturity. News of the settlement was expected before noon at the outset, but when a further postponement was announced, to what would be later than the session of the stock exchange, all disposition to operate in the market seemed to be lost. The show of strength in the Gould group kept alive a supposition that the forthcoming news would be helpful to values. The reticence of all persons directly concerned in the negotiations, however, and the variety of the rumors in circulation as to the probable outcome indicated so much uncertainty that speculative operators hesitated to commit themselves. Aside from this special cause for a lull in activity, the trading seems to have entered upon one of the usual between-periods of hesitation and seeking for new initiative. The number of events in the last few days will be looked forward to as important in their bearing on values and up which action had been taken accordingly in the stock market, accounts for this lapse into dullness. The quietness of the market was believed to be in accord with the desires of important financial interests who are supposed to depreciate undue speculative excitement at this season of the political activity and of developments believed to be working out as well in railroad affairs. Some influence towards repression of activity was caused by the published announcement by the attorney general of the intention of the government to push with renewed vigor all cases pending against railroads for granting rebates or like offenses.

There is some apprehension that this mood of the government authorities may affect the desire of the railroads to advance freight rates, for which a benevolent view from the interstate commerce commission was at one time counted upon.

The copper stocks showed considerable strength, those traded in on the stock exchange as well as those traded in outside. The further rise in the price of the metal helped this movement. The opinions published by the leading iron and steel trade journals as to the amount of the improvement in those issues are so conservative compared with expressions heard in the region of the stock exchange that their weekly appearance has some repressive influence on speculation. Call money continues in great abundance, but the time money market grows firmer. Discounts advanced also in London and Berlin today in response to the weakened showing of the Bank of England and the Bank of France.

There were some reports of damage to spring wheat from rust which had an effect on the price of wheat and was an influence on stocks.

Last prices of stocks show small declines from yesterday as a rule, but the fluctuations were so constant and so narrow as to leave little significance in the day's changes.

Bonds were irregular; total sales, par value, $2,904,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

MADE ESCAPE AND THEN DECIDED TO RETURN

Convict Crept Through Dog Fennels to Liberty—Was Struck by Lightning.

Milltown, Ga., July 30.—(Special.)—June Pool, a convict confined in the state prison camp here, returned to the camp after making good his escape by crawling on hands and knees out of the range of the guard's gun through a thick patch of dog fennels.

June got as far as Cordele, and decided that it was best for him to return, and wrote Deputy Warden Lowe that he was at Cordele, and was coming back, and got as far as Tifton and was taken up by the authorities and brought back to the camp. June is the same convict that was struck by lightning here two weeks ago.
